Viet Troops Rout Reds; Taylor Defends Bombings

Losses High In Battle For Town

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department received word from Saigon today that Premier Thanc Huy Quat had decided to resign as the result of a prolonged constitutional dispute and opposition to his administration.
Reports that the prime minister had stepped down were considered mostly likely true by U.S. officials closely concerned with developments in Viet Nam.

SAIGON (UPI)—Government troops drove the Viet Cong out of Dong Xoai today in one of the bitterest battles of the war and probed northward to try to rescue what was left of a shattered relief column.

Eight more Americans were killed today when their plane crashed in the central highlands far to the north of Dong Xoai. The fighting at Dong Xoai itself cost 31 American casualties according to a U.S. spokesman—one known dead, 17 missing and 13 wounded.

NO CONTACT

There had been no radio contact for hours with the American adviser accompanying the government relief battalion of 300 to 400 men which ran into a Viet Cong ambush when it tried to reach Dong Xoai, 60 miles north of Saigon, yesterday.

The lost battalion had been flown in by helicopters when it ran into a Communist regiment. Losses were feared heavy.

Dong Xoai itself was a shambles of burned out buildings, littered with more than 100 corpses including men, women and children killed by napalm and flame throwers in the savage fighting. Some of them had been used as shields by the Viet Cong in the first minutes of their six-hour human sea assaults.

WOMEN WAIL

Bedraggled and bloodstained Vietnamese women wailed as they kneeled over their dead. uncomprehending children stood by and ate American C rations, despite the nauseating smell of burnt and decaying flesh. A gentle monsoon rain was falling.

The battle for Dong Xoai began before dawn yesterday when battle-hardened Viet Cong attacked in waves. An American survivor said it was assault after assault after assault, with the valiant defenders slowly falling back.

U.S. Force Of 300,000 Is Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said today that bombing attacks on North Viet Nam have "accomplished exactly what was intended."

Taylor, back from Saigon for consultations, challenged as inaccurate however, a senator's report that he told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the bombing attacks would be "continued and enlarged."

SENATOR'S VIEW

And he denied rumors of plans to enlarge U.S. forces in South Viet Nam to 300,000 troops, asserting, "I know of no such project."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., leaving the 2-hour and 40-minute closed committee briefing, quoted Taylor as saying the bombing attacks on North Viet Nam would be continued and enlarged.

"That is not an accurate statement," Taylor said when questioned by reporters.

Asked what would be an accurate statement, the ambassador declined to comment. He talked to newsmen briefly before hurrying off to a meeting of the National Security Council.

He did not elaborate on what he meant by saying the bombings have accomplished what they were intended to accomplish.

VIET AFFAIR

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., who left the briefing early, quoted Taylor as saying the fighting is still a Vietnamese affair and that there is no reason for a U.S. declaration of war.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and other critics of U.S. policy contend that this country is fighting an undeclared war in Viet Nam and President Johnson should ask for such a declaration before continuing to escalate the fighting.

Morse has expressed doubts the American people would support such a declaration.

Two-Pronged Dope Attack Is Declared

More Sausalito Police Requested; Education Planned

Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck today announced a two-pronged attack on Sausalito's narcotics problems—first, a hard-nosed law enforcement policy" and second, an attack from the social aspects.

For the first, he last night asked the Sausalito City Council, sitting as a finance committee, to provide him with five more policemen.

For the second, he called a meeting for 7:30 p.m. today in the city hall with members of the Sausalito clergy, service clubs and other organizations to set up a program for education of parents and juveniles.

ENFORCE CURFEW

The police force henceforth will enforce curfew laws strictly, he announced.

And any "questionable character" seen in company of juveniles will face arrest and possible prosecution for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

"We hope to educate the parent in the appearance of marijuana and narcotics so that he will be able to detect its use at an early date," said Huck. "We hope to work with the juvenile and young adult in showing him the hazards and the danger involved in use of narcotics.

NO HARASSING

"We hope to impress upon the community we are not harassing a child when we stop and question him and advise him of the company he is keeping but, on the contrary, are trying to assist in keeping him from being involved in a situation like that we have just experienced in Marin."

The police chief also urged that the community demand a high level of service from law enforcement people and support them in controlling narcotics traffic.

"This is not a problem that these arrests are going to eliminate," he emphasized. "This is not a problem that is going to go away if we ignore it. It's here before us. We must face up to it . . .

ATTACK ON PROBLEM

"We feel this two-pronged attack upon the problem will certainly contribute to reducing the narcotics traffic.

"But it is going to take time, money and people to control this social evil that we have witnessed in the past few weeks to be so prevalent."

There were no more arrests today in the marijuana roundup which began last Friday. Ten persons indicted Wednesday by the county grand jury are to appear for preliminary hearings June 21. Ten juveniles have also been arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities. An 11th adult was still sought on a "John Doe" warrant.

Novato's Master Plan Envisions City Of Industry

Novato as an industrial city of the future is envisioned in the Novato Master Plan, which received its first public presentation last night in a joint meeting of Novato and Marin County planning commissions.

The plan, presented by County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs, calls for 3,000 acres of industrial sites. These run along the Northwestern Pacific Railroad north of Hamilton Air Force Base to the Marin-Sonoma county line.

This is 50 per cent above the total now zoned for industry in Marin County, according to Marin County Development Assn. figures. North Marin now has 905 acres zoned for industry; San Rafael, 150 acres; Central Marin outside of San Rafael, 647 acres, and South Marin, 223 acres—a total of 1,925 acres. Less than half of this is developed.

The Novato Master Plan, encompassing an area from the Petaluma River and San Pablo Bay to the Novato water-shed on the west, and from the county line to Big Rock Ridge, envisions an eventual population of 163,000 people.

Despite the large proposed industrial zone, it calls for little apartment development. "The object is to keep Novato a single-family community," said Edward Inskeep of the county planning staff, who assisted Dobbs and planner Rowland J. Darnell in the presentation.

37 SCHOOLS

At its eventual development, the area will need 37 elementary schools, 10 junior high schools and five high schools, he said.

The plan recommends an eight-acre civic center north of Olive Avenue and west of Highway 101. An additional six acres at other locations are shown for a main library and branch libraries.

The plan shows the entire area bounded by Novato Boulevard, Grant Avenue, Diablo Avenue and Highway 101 as commercial. This would be in addition to shopping areas along Highway 101 and 37 and South Novato Boulevard and the Novak Square at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue.

Two main recreation areas are proposed,

There would ba a large central park south of Center Road to Canyon Road and east of McClay Avenue. "There is already a small lake in this area which should be made larger, Darnell said.

FOR RECREATION

He also recommended an area east of the Marin County airport for commercial recreation.

"This could be used for water skiing on the Petaluma River where there is already some development along those lines, and auto and motorcycle racing on the diked land," he said.

Other possible recreation areas include one around Stafford Lake and others on the side of Mount Burdell and at Deer Island. Darnell recommended that a baseball park be constructed at San Marin Drive and Highway 101, and a small golf course at the end of Davidson Street.

Noting that the Novato Hospital "is boxed in by hills and streets," Darnell recommended a second hospital site in the

JUANITA CASTRO

Castro Aides Plot Revolt, Sister Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sister of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro said today Cubans high in the government are plotting to ovethrow Castro's Communist regime.

Juanita Castro, 32, who left Cuba last June, said riots against the government have occurred in many parts of the island but news of them has been suppressed.

In testimony before a House subcommittee on un-American activities, Miss Castro told of her experiences in helping her brother reach power and her dissatisfaction with the revolution after the Communists took over.

She said her brother has built "an incredible repressive machine."

"The vast majority of Cuban people are against the Castro regime," she continued. "I don't think they will be able to stand much longer the nightmare of terror they have been living through the past few years."

At the outset of her testimony, Miss Castro read a prepared statement in which she said the Communist plan to take over this entire hemisphere and look on timid liberals and pacifists as their best allies.

Astronauts Tell Of Walk, Booster Roll

White said he and McDivitt agreed they were too pressed for time to try the space walk on the second orbit, as planned, and decided to postpone it one orbit.

White said he had some difficulty mounting the camera outside the spacecraft.

"Jim had the spacecraft steady as a rock," he said. Any jiggling in the early frames of the film were due to his own slightly shaking hands, White said.

He said McDivitt noted his exertions in mounting the camera and told him, "Hey, you're starting to breathe pretty hard." White said he replied there was nothing to worry about, that he wasn't tiring too much.

"I tried to fly with the (space) gun right out the spacecraft," he said. "There was no pushoff—the gun provided the impulse to leave the spacecraft."

He said the golden tether, with which he was attached to the spacecraft, caused him to propel himself slightly off course.

"The tether always tended to

Bartender Accused In Bookmaking Ring

A 36-year-old Mill Valley bartender was accused by a Federal grand jury yesterday of being the number two man in a bookmaking ring which did nearly $8 million worth of business in a six-year period.

Charles Michael O'Neill, 36, of 1 Stanton Way, was one of 17 persons indicted by the jury in San Francisco.

Also named, but granted immunity from prosecution, was Richard Andrews, 32, of 317 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

The indictments came as the climax of a five and one-half month investigation by the grand jury, which had been given a special extension beyond the normal term of four months to complete the job.

It disclosed that the ring, which operated in San Francisco and north San Mateo County, was set up on much the same lines as a corporation, with its "executives" taking care of the big problems and extending a protective hand to aid lesser employees.

The jury charged that Anthony (Big Tony) Ruiz, 38, of South San Francisco, was the top man in the ring and named him on 70 counts of conspiracy to evade federal wagering taxes. His bail was set at $10,000.

His chief assistant, the indictment said, was O'Neill, former basketball player at St. Mary's College and University of California.

Andrews was one of about 20 persons named as co-conspirators, meaning they will not be prosecuted. He was granted immunity during the investigation by Federal Judge Oliver J. Carter on petition of Asst. U.S. Atty. James Brosnahan.

According to the indictment, Andrews' testimony before the federal grand jury brought out that he started work as a salaried "phone man" in May, 1960. He received training courses in how to do his job when he started and again in January, 1962.

Andrews and other phone men were paid from $130 to $185 weekly, drawing their pay at a San Francisco cafe, the jury reported.

When employees of the ring were picked up by police, Ruiz was said to have extended a helping hand, paying attorney's fees, fines, bail fees and other expenses. If jailed, a ring member continued to draw his salary.

The indictment said Ruiz gave Andrews $1,000 in Febru-

Twin Cities Joint Rec Group Ends

The Larkspur City Council last night wrote "finis" to the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission, and hired its director to work for the City of Larkspur.

The council voted to terminate its agreement with Corte Madera for a joint recreation program, effective June 30.

It hired Robert C. Bundy, who resigned as recreation director for the joint district effective June 30, to start work for Larkspur the following day at $625 per month—the same salary he was paid by the joint district.

He will direct a city recreation department for Larkspur and assist the police department in juvenile work and City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper in administrative detail. Piper said if Corte Madera wants Bundy to work part-time on its city recreation

Senate Votes Swift Approval For Budget

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate gave swift approval to Gov. Brown's $4.14 billion budget today, bringing the biggest spending bill in California's history to a two-house showdown. (See earlier story, page 5.)

The 31-6 vote on the measure sent it to the Assembly, which had passed a budget $3.6 million lower than the Senate version. Senators and assemblymen will settle the differences in a compromise committee.

Passage came as increasingly bitter wrangling threatened to wreck a proposed settlement of another big legislative issue — court-ordered reapportionment of the Senate.

Child Beating Bill Sent To Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly today sent to Gov. Brown a bill requiring doctors to report suspected cases of child beating to the police.

The vote was 42-0 on the measure by Assemblyman Don Allen, D-Los Angeles, which would protect the reporting physician from criminal or civil camage suits in case his suspicions prove to be unfounded.

Cloudburst Kills 13

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP) — A cloudburst struck the West Texas town of Sanderson today, sending a wall of water through the heart of the community. Stat police said they confirmed at least 13 dead.

Education Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee recommended today that the Senate confirm Gov. Brown's reappointment of Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles to the State Board of Education.

Brown Asks Education Standard

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—America's population is so mobile that uniform national standards are required in education, California Gov. Edmund G. Brown says.

He was to ask the Western Governors' Conference today to endorse the national education standards act proposed by James P. Conant.

Brown

A daily immigration of 1,000 persons puts an especially heavy load on California but other states also are burdened in trying to adjust schools to the uneven levels of the new students.

Kuchel Says GOP Facing Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California told the New York state Republican committee last night that the two-party system is in peril.

Kuchel

He said "Republicans face a time of crisis," and he called upon the GOP to become "a courageous national party representing the needs of the many, and not of the few."

"Our party," said Kuchel, "opposes the ridiculous demands of the ultraconservative that we repeal the income tax and that we leave civil rights to each state."

FDR Jr. Available For N.Y. Race

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., the man with the magic name, is available to run for mayor of New York City—if the right people ask him to.

Roosevelt made that clear yesterday during a news conference he called shortly after New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced he would not run for a fourth term.

Wagner's decision threw New York's Democrats into an uproar. They need a strong candidate to oppose 43-year-old Rep. John V. Lindsay, who has entered the mayoralty race as an independent Republican.

No Short Skirts

SAN BERNARDINO (AP)—Skirts don't stay short for long at Del Vallejo Junior High School.

Mrs. Nancy B. Goforth, dean of girls no longer just hems and haws about the length of skirts girls wear to school. The girls now do the hemming.

So far she has invited 35 girls into her office, given them needle and thread, and required them to sew a crepe paper extension on their skirts to bring the hem to the top of the knee.

"The girls have been very cooperative about wearing the ruffles," said Mrs. Goforth. "At first they were somewhat shy but, unfortunately, they are beginning to like it.

"We have no set requirement for dress here," she said. "We just expect the children to dress so they don't distract from learning processes in the classroom. Long hair on boys and short skirts on girls do distract.

Pope Returns

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI was back at his desk in the Vatican today after a flying visit to the leaning tower city of Pisa, the third Italian trip of his reign. The pontiff flew to Pisa yesterday afternoon to attend the National Eucharistic Congress.

Atrocity Charges Probed By OAS

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — International organizations pressed investigations today into atrocity charges involving both sides in the Dominican conflict.

The United Nations and the Organization of American States are conducting independent investigations of charges that both sides have been guilty of indiscriminate executions of their foes.

U. N. representative Jose A. Mayobre is going today to rebel - held Fort Ozama — formerly police headquarters — to investigate reports that the rebels killed a number of captured policemen when they overran the fort late in April.

The OAS announced last night it is sending an inter-American patrol to guard the area near La Victoria penitentiary, north of Santo Domingo, where Maj. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera's junta government is said to have been conducting firing - squad executions.

Mayobre and a group of newsmen visited the scene of the alleged junta executions yesterday. They found charred human bones, apparently from two bodies, five recently dug plots which might be graves and five cartridge cases, four from a rifle and one from a pistol.

They did not dig into the freshly turned earth to determine whether the apparent graves contained human remains.

The inter - American patrol presumably will guard the area until experts in criminal investigation arrive to look into the charges against the junta.

GIFT FROM OPPOSITE COAST

The Marin Blood Center formally accepted late yesterday a gift of appreciation that came from Garden City, Long Island, N.Y. A pair of cabinets for storage of blood donor supplies were presented by Mr. and Mrs. James Cavanagh of Garden City as a memorial to their only son, Howard, for whom members of American Legion Post 284, Mill Valley, gave blood for an open heart operation last year. Participating in acceptance of the gift were (from left) Arthur G. Burns, a director of the blood center, Mrs. William Cavanagh of 32 Ryan Avenue, Mill Valley, aunt of Howard Cavanagh, and Gloria Gibala, registered nurse at the center.

Supervisors Chip At County Budget

Marin County supervisors yesterday cut $20,030 out of the proposed budget for fiscal 1966, far short of the cut needed to create $162,606 to finance supplemental payments to welfare recipients.

Most of yesterday's cuts were made in the building and maintenance budget submitted by the public works department.

The board's philosophy was to cut sharply on maintenance of buildings that will be vacated when the hall of justice addition is completed at the Civic Center.

Yesterday was the second day of a two-week schedule of budget review. It appeared at the close of the day, with some of major public works budgets still to be discussed, that the board will have to schedule night meetings most of next week to complete its deliberations on schedule.

Supervisors were unable to cut much from the probation department budget. They reduced the figure for grounds maintenance at juvenile hall from $5,000 to $3,950.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker noted that the cost of probation department operation has doubled in three years, going from $576,000 to $1,024,000.

Chief Probation Officer Walter H. Busher said part of the increase was the addition of the family rehabilitation center at Juvenile Hall, while part was due to the fact that Marin "got a late start" in the probation field.

Busher said juvenile hall population hit a peak of 83 early this month. The hall, he said, was built for 39.

Supervisors spent most of yesterday afternoon chipping away at the building and maintenance budget submitted by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost. The board questioned $13,400 for new drapes at the Civic Center and learned that there is a glare problem in offices on the west side of the building. They allowed $2,000 for correction, suggesting Frost get a spray can of glass tint to cure the problem generally and use the $2,000 for work where it is most serious.

The board deleted $1,480 for copper water pipes at the courthouse and reduced the allocation for sidewalk repair there from $4,750 to $1,000. They ruled out $3,500 for an incinerator at Juvenile Hall and $600 for a boiler control replacement at the health department building, and squeezed $1,000 out of the allocation for painting of the Cheda Building in San Rafael, where the probation department rents space.

By the end of the day, the projected tax rate for next fiscal year was down to $2.287 per $100 assessed valuation. When deliberations began Wednesday, the projection was at $2.295. Current tax rate is $2.30.

Horse Care Training Taken By Hundreds

More than 300 persons have received certificates for completing a six-week horse care and instruction course, held by the Marin County Humane Society at the Circle V Ranch, Fairfax.

Society Executive Director Mel L. Morse said his group would probably repeat the course because so many people responded to this one. It ended last week.

FIRE HELPS SKATEBOARDS BITE DUST

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP) — The Warren J. Olson family gathered solemnly around a bonfire in the vacant lot behind the house.

There were Mr. and Mrs. Olson; Bridget 10, her left arm in a cast; Patricia, 12; Rita 9; Warren G., 7, and Theresa 6. Kathryn, 14, was at a neighbor's baby-sitting — despite a sprained arm.

"We have been keeping the emergency room at St. Mary's Hospital busy," said Olson. "This ought to save some money."

State 'Word' Mailing Out

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A halt appears in store to a state senator's mailing of material containing the obscene four-letter sex word that the "Filthy Speech Movement" rallied around at the University of California.

Yesterday, postal inspectors in San Francisco stopped mailings by Californians for Morality of literature with the dirty word in it. Even though the group opposed the word, the mailmen decided, they still couldn't send obscene material in the mail.

That brought the disclosure in the Capitol that Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, has been mailing transcripts of the "dirty word" rally at the U.C. Berkeley campus in State Senate envelopes.

Loss Of Subventions Laid To Bad Faith

Marin and probably others counties are losing a portion of their vehicle licensing fees because of "bad faith" on the part of the State Department of Finance, County Administrator Alan Bruce charged yesterday.

The department estimates population for the counties on special request and on the fifth year after the regular federal census. Apportionments of license fees is based on these estimates.

The estimate was due today.

Meanwhile, the state revised its statewide allocation of the vehicle licensing fees to counties so that Marin was to receive $82,000 less than expected.

Bruce said the department promised, however, to use the new population figures in calculating the allocation, provided the estimates were certified by June 21. Marin County, now in the midst of budget review, was not expecting to have an actual $82,000 loss.

Yesterday, however, the department finance informed county that the population estimates would not be certified by June 21.

The 1960 federal census set the county population at 146,800.

The county planning commission expects the state estimate will be about 187,000 for 1965. Supervisors had been using the latter figure in calculating expected state subventions for the 1966 fiscal year.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

How many of you can remember back when miniature golf was a craze that swept the country? Every town had its course, and some had several. Now that happy sport is making a comeback, and courses are beginning to reappear in many areas. Marin County has one. Tomorrow's issue of your Independent-Journal Magazine will tell you how and why miniature golf is catching on again as a relaxing fun pastime.

Yes, San Rafael High School has grown and changed a lot since its first classes were begun in 1888. And so has its commencement exercises, since the first graduation rites were conducted in 1891. On the eve of graduation week for the class of 1965, tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement looks back into the 19th century for the story of that first graduation. And for a history of the growth of San Rafael High School.

Garbage Collection Rates Are Increased

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night raised garbage collection rates for about 5,000 homes, discussed a tentative budget more than 25 per cent above this year's, and ordered recruitment of a district manager.

Effective July 1, Marin Sanitary Service garbage collection rates will go from $1.60 to $2 per month for a single, 30-gallon garbage can and from $2.80 to $3.30 for two 30-gallon cans in residential areas, the directors voted. The rate hike, first since 1958, came only after two months discussion, and an audit of Marin Sanitary Service collection costs by the district's own account, directors pointed out.

The rates will henceforth be the same as for all other areas served by the scavenger firm, according to Mrs. Helen Foulkes, district secretary.

The tentatively approved budget calls for spending $107,800, as compared to $85,800 for fiscal 1965. Directors were unable to tell whether they will have to resort to a property tax for operation and maintenance. This year, property owners paid 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation for bond retirement only.

The tentative budget increase reflects decision to hire a district manager at $10,000 per year, increased operating costs, and costs incidental to the nearly $400,000 treatment plant expansion now under way.

District directors ordered sale of $470,000 in bonds to finance improvements in the Gallinas Village assessment district. Property owners had paid in $37,123.28 in cash by the assessment deadline June 4.

Hamilton Air Force Base's request that the district take over sewage service for the eastern portion of the base was taken under study.

She Wins Fee Fight For Self

Mrs. Jane Sheehy may take a course in zoology this summer at the College of Marin without paying a $5 registration fee.

Mrs. Sheehy, of 18 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, has been leading a one-woman fight against the college's fees for persons over 21 who take less than 10 units of classroom work.

She said yesterday she felt frustrated because she seems to have won her own battle, but cannot help others.

At the start of the spring semester, she refused to pay the fee of $5 per course. She attended a Marin Junior College District board meeting with a letter from the attorney general to back her up.

The board voted to continue the fees, but College President Stephen E. Epler ordered her admitted without paying the fee.

When she applied for a summer course, she said, she sent a letter saying:

"I believe that such tuition fees contravene our commitment as citizens and taxpayers to a free educational system of schools in California.

"Therefore, as a parttime student, I respectfully refuse to submit any tuition fee."

She said that the only way, apparently, to have the fee eliminated would be a court action against the college, but she said an attorney told her it would cost her a minimum of $1,500 to carry the case.

Five Patrolmen Are Requested

Five more police patrolmen were asked of the Sausalito City Counucil finance committee last night by Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck and Lt. Ted Zink.

Councilmen did not indicate any specific action, said City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, who originally asked for two patrolmen but last night upped this to three.

Four more firemen were requested by Fire Chief Charles E. Masten and Asst. Chief Frank Christ. The council indicated that, for adequate coverage of both stations, it is likely three men will be required. Brown said he had asked for two.

The committee will meet again Monday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss public works and the library in a budget session.

Wife Missing From Home

Katherine Mary Young, 38, has been missing from her San Rafael home since Wednesday morning, police reported today.

Her husband, Wilbur Young, said she had left their apartment at 304 First Street about 9:15 a.m. Wednesday and had been expected to return by noon. He notified police and an all-points bulletin was issued Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Young, wearing a rose-colored dress and a short blue coat, had about $15 cash with her, her husband said. He told police there had been no quarrel.

Rough Night For Pair In Novato

It was a rough night for Charles Edward Hansen, 37, of San Francisco.

He and William John Peterson, 37, of San Jose were headed for Sebastopol in Hansen's car. As they were going through Novato, they told police, a flipped cigarette set the back seat on fire.

They pulled into a service station at 7473 Redwood Highway. Hansen jumped out, and told Peterson to back the car up near the water hoses.

The car knocked Hansen down and ran over his legs. When he shouted he had been run over, Peterson drove forward — and ran over him again.

Police Officer A. W. Schroeder and an ambulance arrived at the scene. Hansen refused to go to the hospital. Schroeder took both men to the Greyhound bus station, where they agreed to take a bus to San Francisco.

They didn't take it. Just before midnight, Patrolman R. D. Fetter arrested Hansen at 7430 Redwood Highway on a drunk charge. Taken to the county jail, Hansen complained of pain in his legs. He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital and transferred to Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco, where he was reported in good condition today with no injuries worse than bruises.

Shortly after daybreak, Patrolman M. W. Cann found Peterson asleep in a telephone booth at Lamont Avenue and Highway 101. Peterson, awakened, said he would hitch-hike to San Francisco. Cann watched while he started out—headed north.

area of San Marin Drive and Simmons Lane.

Future streets might include an extension of Novato Boulevard eastward along Diablo and De Long avenues and east into the present swamp area, the planners suggested. They recommended that Rowland Boulevard be extended east and north of Bahia. Two proposed streets north of the city would be Burdell and Olampali between the city and the county line.

Any rapid transit lines would be on, or parallel to the Northwestern Pacific lines. Stations are shown north of Hamilton Air Force Base, on the Rowland Boulevard extension, and north of the business district.

Water, sanitary and fire districts are not included in the general plan, nor are Hamilton Air Force Base and Raphael Village, which are federally controlled.

"We are recommending that a special study be made of the Black Point area, as is was very badly subdivided originally," Dobbs said.

Aerial mapping, master storm drainage plan and a proposed capital improvement program will be gone into in a second hearing on the plan, said Dobbs. This was set for 8 p.m. July 8 by the Novato Planning Comission.

The county planning commission will hold its second hearing after Novato's, Dobbs said.

Held In Slaying

Most of the defendants were named in the indictment's first county, charging them with conspiracy to avoid payment of wagering stamp taxes. A separate count charged San Mateo County Sheriff's Capt. Alvin J. Prara, 45, and former San Francisco Police Inspector Joseph O'Farrell, 56, with tipping off the bookies about planned raids. Their bail was set at $1,000 each.

O'Neill was the only one of those indicted who was not arrested yesterday. He was expected to surrender to federal authorities this afternoon, according to Brosnahan. O'Neill's bail was set at $5,000.

The defendants were charged with owing some $793,000 in federal taxes on their business, which used 46 different phone rooms in its six-year life, according to the indictment.

Three Drunken Drivers Fined

Stanley M. Galloway, 45, of San Francisco, was fined $220 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested May 20 on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol.

Sandra Osborne, 31, of 13 Hillside Avenue, Kentfield, was fined $276, also for drunken driving. She was arrested by San Rafael police Feb. 1

Vernon Leroy Modin, patient at Agnews State Hospital, was fined $276 and given five days in county jail for drunken driving on June 7. He was arrested by sheriff's officers.

A Marine battalion landing team usually comprises 1,200 men, although it may be larger or smaller.

Phone Firms Agree To Rate Hearing Later

Representatives of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Western California Telephone Co. yesterday agreed that the California Public Utilities Commission should consider both companies' applications for non-toll service between Novato and San Rafael exchanges, then determine the rates later.

This unexpected development came after engineers and attorneys for both companies became mired in technical details of the various methods of determining charges and fees, and separation fees for the two companies.

With nothing left but technical details, George Grover, examiner who conducted the hearing, moved it today to the commission's rooms in the state building in San Francisco.

Pacific Telephone proposed a rate schedule for non-toll "extended service" between its Ignacio (south Novato) and San Rafael exchanges which would increase the service charge for San Rafael business phones by 70 cents per month but not increase the charge for residential phones. For Ignacio exchange customers, increases would run from 45 or 55 cents residential to $1.45 to $1.65 for business phones, depending on which of two proposals by Western California was approved. Western California's exchange serves most of the City of Novato.

Both companies have submitted alternate rate schedules to those originally set forth in their applications.

Only person to testify yesterday afternoon besides company officials was Mrs. Richard F. Laws of 2 Celeste Court, Novato, who asked for better telephone service to the rest of the county, especially the Mill Valley area.

County Supervisor William A. Gnoss and representatives of the Emporium, Roos-Atkins and the City of Paris, who were scheduled to be heard today, agreed to submit written statements showing they favor Western California Co.'s application for extended service.

Piper said the proposed city recreation budget for fiscal 1966 is $11,000 and hiring Bundy will not require an increase.

Bundy was hired by 4-0 vote, with Councilman Earl J. O'Grady absent.

The council also re-appointed Dr. Ted F. Pett to the park and recreation commission for a four-year term.

The actions meant the joint commission, which was financed by Larkspur, Corte Madera and the Larkspur School District, will go out of business at the end of this month.

The commission had been in financial difficulties repeatedly. Trustees of the school district felt that use of school facilities should be sufficient contribution toward recreation. Corte Madera Town Council three times this spring voted against appropriating funds to carry the joint recreation program beyond June 30.

When the Gregorian calendar was adopted by Great Britain and the American colonies in 1752, 11 days were eliminated from history with Sept. 2 being followed by Sept. 14.

OBITUARIES

Dr. Lloyd Tyler, 67, Succumbs

Dr. Lloyd Grafton Tyler, 67, a retired Marin physician and surgeon and resident here since 1931, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

He lived at 120 Sturdivant Avenue, San Anselmo, and practiced in San Rafael from 1931 to 1956. A well-known general practicioner and surgeon, he retired in 1957.

He was a native of Oregon, and descendant of California pioneers. His father also was a physician.

Dr. Tyler received B.A. and M.D. degrees from University of California. He practiced for a short time in Crescent City before coming to San Rafael.

During World War I he served in France with the U.S. Army's 54th Ammunition Train. He was a member of the Marin Medical Society, Commonwealth Club of California, Alpha Omega Alpha medical honor society, Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternity, and Crescent Lodge 45, Free and Accepted Masons.

Surviving are his wife, Mabel M. Tyler; a son, Lloyd A. Tyler of Berkeley; a daughter, Mrs. Clyde Childress of Palo Alto; a sister, Mrs. George Schemoon of Eureka, and six grandchildren.

pivot me in the area I didn't want to be in," he added.

Finally, he said, he ran out of fuel for his space gun and had to use the tether to maneuver.

"This was the time," White remarked, "that I said I sure wished I had a little more fuel for my gun."

White said he walked two or three steps on the spacecraft itself by pulling himself along with the tether.

"The view from up there is just spectacular," White said. He told how he could see the whole state of Florida and islands in the Caribbean.

White said the walk in space was completely successful.

"Yes," he said, "a man can operate in space." But he added, "he needs a little more fuel."

McDivitt said the launch was entirely what he had expected and described the Titan rocket booster as "fantastic."

He said he had hoped to be able to get close to the booster rocket but that it was tumbling at the rate of 40 to 50 degrees per second, "much faster than anyone had anticipated."

He also said the booster fell away rather rapidly.

McDivitt said this made it difficult to keep the Gemini 4 spacecraft in the same orbit with the tumbling booster.

The astronauts were to receive congratulations from President Johnson this afternoon.

In a switch of plans, the astronauts and their wives chose to ask President Johnson to come to Houston so congratulations could be shared with all employes of the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Dressed Fowl Bill Is Passed

A New York dressed fowl is an uneviscerated bird used in Chinese and Jewish religious observances.

The bill, by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, makes permanent certain inspection exemptions for the fowl. Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan, D-Santa Rosa, said nearly all the New York dressed fowl were produced in Sonoma County and their major market was in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Body Found Burned To Death Near Car

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The body of a psychologist at the California Medical Facility in Vacaville was found burned to death near his car yesterday, Sacramento police reported.

Officers said Dr. Marvin Reuel Schafer, 63, was apparently trying to pour gasoline from a five-gallon can into his car when the auto caught fire. Dr. Schafer had been supervisor of testing and intake at the medical facility.

A medieval tower in Buerglen, Switzerland, the home of Wilhelm Tell, will be restored and converted into a museum to house the collection of the country's hero.

SENATE TURNS TO BUDGET VOTE

Bitter Wrangling Increases Over Redistricting Of Upper House

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate — its reapportionment bill threatened by increasingly bitter wrangling — turned today to a vote on Gov. Brown's $4.14 billion budget.

Predictions of quick, quiet approval were in sharp contrast to the raucus, angry battle in the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee last night over the upper house redistricting plan.

Passage of the Senate version of the budget, amended into a bill already passed by the Assembly, would send the measure back to the lower house for expected rejection and then into a two-house conference committee. The Senate's budget is $3.6 million higher than the Assembly's.

There were loud and long exchanges in the 3½ hour discussion of the reapportionment plan — revised in the Assembly committee after it passed the Senate.

With controversy swirling around the bill — an effort to realign the rural-dominated Senate on a population basis — the committee unexpectedly delayed a vote until at least Monday. Meanwhile, it planned to rework the bill behind closed doors.

Sen. Thomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles, angrily rebuked Chairman Don Allen, D-Los Angeles. He was angry because Allen tossed out the districts Rees drew for Los Angeles County's 12 senators and substituted new lines.

He called Allen's plan "crass political gerrymandering" and charged that staff members, rather than the committee, devised it in a locked, soundproof, fireproof room in the basement of the Capitol.

"You've been acting very emotional and unstable about the situation," replied Assemblyman Robert Moretti, D-North Hollywood.

Negro Assemblyman F. Douglas Ferrell, D-Los Angeles, speaking of a predominantly Negro district in the Rees plan, said "in spite of the front you put on in" the campaign against last year's Prop. 14 housing initiative "you want to keep the Negroes in one place."

Behind all the harsh words was an intense bread-and-butter fight for political power.

The Senate plan came over to the Assembly with Rees' Los Angeles County districts already drawn — but no district lines set down for the five other populous counties given two senators each — Alameda, Santa Clara, Orange, San Diego and San Francisco.

Right away, assemblymen from those counties began fighting for districts that would make it possible for them to trade their two-year lower house terms in for four year terms in the Senate.

Board Certifies Bond Election

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday canvassed returns of the Tuesday bond election for the hall of justice addition to the Civic Center and certified that the measure passed by a vote of 14,568 "yes" to 7,177 "no."

There were 28 spoiled ballots.

Fill Control Plan Closer To Enactment

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation to place controls on filling and dredging in San Francisco Bay is on the Assembly floor today a step closer to expected enactment.

The measure moved easily out of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee late last night on a unanimous voice vote.

It is sponsored by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, and already has upper house approval.

"This bill is a compromise between a blanket moratorium and the unregulated filling now going on," McAteer explained. The same opponents who have appeared in previous hearings appeared again, but again to no avail.

The bill sets up a 29-member San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, charged with preparing a plan by 1969 for orderly development and preservation of the 435-square mile bay.

Tree Cutter Asks Division Of Lots

Stanley Taylor, whose land division, tree cutting and earth moving at Harbor Point on the Tiburon Peninsula have raised protests of neighbors, will be before the Marin County zoning administrator Monday asking a variance to allow several lot divisions.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, but Taylor's application will not be taken up until 4:30 p.m.

He is asking for 21 lots plus a parcel set aside for a marina out of 11 existing lots. All lots he proposes would be less than the required 20,000 square feet.

Also on Monday's agenda before zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill is the application of Golf Ranges Inc. for a golf driving range on six acres east of Sims Street and north of Jacoby Street, just outside east San Rafael. That item is to come up at 10:30 a.m.

Clear View Cable Systems' request for a use permit to put an antenna next to 956 Vernal Avenue in Tamalpais Valley will be reconsidered at 11:15 a.m. Cordill earlier had turned down the application.

Council Awards Contract For Laurel Grove Paving

Contract for repaving sections of Laurel Grove Avenue was awarded by the Ross Town Council last night to Brown-Ely Co. of Corte Madera at $6,664, which is $136 under the engineer's estimate.

There were only two bidders, E. A. Forde Co. of Corte Madera bid $6,786.40.

The council delayed decision on whether to add sidewalks on Laurel Grove Avenue, pending further cost studies.

Increase of the town's police force to four members was announced at the meeting as the council certified hiring of Lee Hinnenberg, who started work as a patrolman June 1.

The Ross Town Council also:

1. Postponed to Aug. 12 action on final map of Cypress Glen subdivision on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

2. Granted Mrs. John Kittle permission to split a 12-acre parcel at Laurel Grove Avenue and Canyon Road into two lots, one of 1.04 and the other of 10.9 acres.

3. Denied C. Y. Perry of 38 Poplar Avenue a variance to allow addition of two rooms and a portico to his home, on grounds it would overburden the small lot. Three other home owners were granted variances for additions and remodeling without protest.

Kindergarten Plans

Parents of youngsters living in the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District may pre-register kindergarten pupils for September from 1 to 3 p.m. next Wednesday at Bolinas School, according to Peter M. Auer, superintendent-principal. Parents who cannot appear on that date may make other arrangements by telephoning Auer's office.

She was vice president of the National Honor Society, and a member of the Girls Athletic Assn., Glee Club and newspaper staff.

Ross Council Votes School Improvements

Ross Town Council last night approved plans for construction and improvements at Ross Grammar School, and scheduled a June 24 meeting to consider approval of final plans of a face-lifting project for adjacent Ross Common Park.

The latter, which actually provides an extention of playground space for students, is being financed by public subscription of funds.

Town Councilman Harry C. Scott Jr. declined to say how much money has thus far been raised, but said some 30 donations have been received.

He said renovation would include replacement of the baseball diamond, other play areas, the installation of an automatic sprinkler system for the 4.36-acre parcel.

The council also approved in general a maintenance agreement for the park between town and school district, but cost proportions were not determined.

The Ross School construction project involves building a multi-purpose room, four classrooms, repairs to the present building, and conservation of the present multi-purpose room into an enlarged library. The existing library will be converted to another classroom.

Ocelot Found Free Of Rabies

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A pet ocelot which bit or scratched actor Sal Mineo and 10 other persons has been found free of rabies, according to county health officials.

The autopsy finding yesterday meant that the victims would not have to undergo antirabies treatment.

Vallecito To Graduate 330 Pupils

A class of 330 pupils at Vallecito School will graduate from the eighth grade in a program scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Terra Linda High School Gymnasium.

The graduation will be a little different from past years, when the two or three top students in the class were featured.

This year, so many finished with such similar grades that the faculty had to name a student committee, Vice Principal Jack Neiger explained.

The pledge to the flag will be led by Rick Mulhaupt. Mistress of ceremonies will be Janice Grau.

Nancy L. Wilkinson and Karen Field will speak. Susan Ownes will present the class gift to Brigitte Diraison of the seventh grade, named to represent the school.

Others on the graduating committee are Robyn Horvoth, Sally Young, Brian Carlisle and Mary Upshaw.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis of Dixie School District will present the class, and Earl H. Koehler, chairman of the board of trustees, will speak.

Koehler and Melvin R. Stidham, clerk of the board, will then present the diplomas.

Rev. Fred L. Fisher of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry will give the invocation, and Rev. Paul G. Schurman of Aldersgate Methodist Church, the benediction.

Brakes Released On Eight Cars

CASTRO VALLEY (AP)—Vandals released brakes of eight cars parked on hills yesterday, sending them crashing into nine other cars, two homes and three retaining walls.

Larkspur Revamp Gets Wary Eye

Larkspur city officials were skeptical last night when they heard plans for revitalizing the downtown business area into a town center with city buildings and recreational facilities.

Planning consultant John David Erickson ran into sharp questioning on the plan at a joint meeting of the Larkspur City Council and Planning Commission.

Erickson, who is preparing a general plan for the city, stressed the "Larkspur Center" plan, which he said will bring a "community focus" to the downtown area.

He said the revamping would have to be financed by a development corporation of property owners.

Councilman Vaughn M. Marker said there are many owners involved "and the practicality diminishes with the number."

Erickson proposed that the area, roughly between King and Post streets and Hawthorne and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way, "be converted into an attractive area for shopping."

He said the city hall, fire and police departments, library, a major recreational facility such as the Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax, and a park could be included in the area along with retail service business and specialty shops.

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said the downtown business area "is going flat, and business is moving out." He wondered "if the community should go to this degree to preserve this."

Erickson said that the Citizens General Plan Committee listed revitalizing of the downtown area as one of the goals of the plan, and he felt it was the right approach.

The change would be made over a 25-year period, with the first stage consisting of changes in some of the downtown structures and perhaps elimination of single family homes in the commercial area.

Piper asked Erickson if the town center concept could be developed elsewhere.

"It could, but I think this is the logical place," Erickson replied.

Planning Commissioner William G. Fleckles urged that the property owners in the area be consulted because without their support "the plan is worthless."

Councilman Robert J. Smith said the "city should not get overly concerned about putting the plan into operation immediately, but provide leadership and say 'this is a good plan.'"

Most downtown structures are from 25 to 40 years old and will be torn down in the normal course of events, so the city could set the program now, Smith suggested.

Piper pointed out that the city has 45 acres of tidelands which could serve as a center for city buildings, and is "as close to the center of the city as you can get."

Erickson said the citizens committee felt that the creek area should be preserved for recreation.

Other goals of the general plan are to have underground utilities wherever possible, low density on slopes, more recreational facilities and the major thoroughfare along the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way instead of Magnolia Avenue, so the commercial district would not be split.

The council and the commission will have another joint briefing on the plan June 24 at 8 p.m. at city hall. After the plan is completed, the planning commission will conduct public hearings on it.

Councilman Earl J. O'Grady and Commissioner E. Paul Atkins were absent.

Gallinas Village Due Survey On Park Site

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community District last night agreed that a community survey should precede any action on development of the Hacienda Way Park site and the old sewer pumping station site next to MacPhail School.

The decision was urged by 10 residents who attended the directors' meeting at the school. They were against the directors' plan for tennis courts on the Hacienda way site.

Directors delayed any answer to Las Gallinas Sanitary District's request for $3,000 in assessments due on two of the community service district's sewer pumping stations.

Mrs. Robert Durenberger, a CSD director, reported the board was upset about having to pay assessments on property that the CSD has assigned to the sanitary district. An opinion will be asked of the Marin County counsel's office before any action is taken, Mrs. Durenberger said.

The board called for bids on landscaping, benches and other facilities for development of the park at Rosal and Adrian ways. Bids are to be opened at 8 p.m., July 8.

Hub City Chamber Agrees On Move

Directors of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce yesterday agreed to move its chamber office into a new building under construction by Robert Nolan at 510 Redhill Avenue.

The chamber was offered 440 square feet of space for $110 a month, the best of three offers for space. The building is expected to be completed in September.

Directors also voted to have a new supply of city maps printed by the Western Lithograph Co. and to enter a queen contestant in the Sonoma-Marin District fair contest.

Dentist's Office Is Broken Into

Corte Madera police reported the office of dentist Frances C. Yanni, 81 Casa Buena Drive, was broken into last night, but said they were not sure what was missing, because Dr. Yanni could not be reached.

A louvered window in the rear of the building was broken. Police said prescription blanks and narcotics may have been taken.

Warning Issued On Dangerous Fireworks

A Warning was issued today to the public to be on the lookout for fireworks in the shape of small colored "candy" balls which, if chewed, exploded and caused injuries.

Ralph K. Pederson, Sausalito fire prevention captain, said these fireworks have injured children elsewhere in the nation. So far none has been found in Marin County.

The first Ferris wheel highlighted the 1893 Chicago Exposition.

Larkspur Asks End To Fire Tax

The Larkspur City Council last night asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors to exclude the city from paying taxes toward county fire protection.

Larkspur has a fire department which provides protection and does not receive any additional benefit from the county "for structural fire protection," City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said.

Piper pointed out that the county is not rendering the service, but is collecting taxes for it.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Cherish Inn Is Expected To Open At Strawberry

When you drive past the Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, look at the buildings at the southernmost end of the development - and you'll see the name Cherish Inn - still with lots of work to be done.

This is expected to open somewhere around the first of next month and will be the first in a chain of restaurants to be established throughout California, Oregon, Washington and possibly in Nevada. The owner is a San Francisco corporation headed by one Olinda Barsetti, a chef, and Charlie Piro, who formerly had Piro's restaurant in the city.

The name and restaurant theme are all built around the adventures of one Captain Horatio Cherish, a fictitious character who is said to have started his sea career as a dreamy-eyed youngster on a Boston dock when the 19th century was still comparatively young. He traded his visions for a berth as cabin boy on a sailing vessel one day, and as the story goes, eventually made his way up the companionway to master.

NOW IF THERE was anything Cherish loved more than the sea it was food — and as he wandered from port to port throughout the world he made a practice of learning and picking up both the famous and little known recipes of each country.

Cherish Inn proposes to duplicate those recipes on its menues—from Italy, France, Spain, Germany, the Mediterranean, the Adriatic, the Far East and the Western Hemisphere. As if designed to accommodate emissaries from all those places, it will have a seating capacity of 180. And the bar will seat another 70. I understand that a liquor license is being acquired through the mediations of Harry Abras of Timmer Realty.

Lunches and dinners will be served — and Sunday brunches. A spokesman for the company described it as a "family restaurant with moderate prices, that will welcome yachtsmen, horsemen and the outdoor crowd in casual attire." No banquet room is in the immediate plans, but there will be separated private areas for small parties.

The whole affair strikes an interesting note and could develop into quite an operation.

WITH ALL the information that is given out on how to match red or white wines with various types of food, I don't recall ever seeing or hearing anything about tieing up the right wine with Chinese food.

According to Ed Leong at Confucius Restaurant in Greenbrae, the fact is that the Chinese are not much for wine drinking in the first place, so they have never given the matter much thought. Ouside of tea, reports Ed, straight Scotch or Canadian whisky is the preferred mealtime beverage.

But in America, all combinations are possible, and Ed opines that most white wines go best with Chinese viands — Rhine wines, chablis or sauterne. His own preference is Liebfraumilch, and taking his tip we followed this course last week with pleasing results. It enhanced the sweet and sour prawns, steamed rice, chicken asparagus and squab — I wonder why the Chinese never thought of it.

Just to have the ring of authority on this I called enophine Philip Harding, and he agreed. With Chinece food — white or rose wine. Next time at Confucius make a point of asking for it.

THIS MAY NOT be dining in the strict sense — but the kids should certainly go for it.

There will be a carnival atmosphere tomorrow in the Northgate Shopping Center when the Hi- Hopes of Marin present their first "Hot Dog Extravaganza" in Unit One between Northgate Drugs and the Crocker-Citizens National Bank.

Oscar Meyer has contributed 2,400 hot dogs. They'll be served on Blue Seal Buns and cola and Diet-Rite provided by Royal Crown. L. P. Snow (wholesalers) is furnishing an assortment of relishes. Laura Scudder's potato chips and Dean's doughnuts will round out this mid-day menu.

The complete hot dog luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Cost will be a 50-cents contribution to the City of Hope National Medical Center, known for its research in catastrophic diseases — leukemia, heart disease and the cancers.

Chairman is Mrs. Fred Pill of San Rafael, with Don Rubke of Tiburon's Brice Bros. Market (he lives in Terra Linda) advising on arrangements. Northgate Purity is in on this, too.

THE OFFICE in Mill Valley has another of its Candlestick Park cruises lined up for June 27. That's the day the Gaints play the Phillies.

The package is this: Continental breakfast at the Office; round trip by boat between Tiburon and Candlestick; good reserved seats at the ball game; buffet dinner on your return. All this for $10 per person. About 100 persons can be accomodated.

Better be at the Office for breakfast in time to leave by 10 a.m. for the boat which sails from Tiburon around 11.

AND SPEAKING of Tiburon, before theater dinners are being offered again by the Caprice — starting at 7 p.m. daily. Several good selections at $4.50-$4.75, quite filling and satisfying but served promptly enough so you won't miss the first act, unless you dilly-dally through your own choosing. Make reservations, as usual.

I'm inclined to think the patrician nose of Kirby Atterbury is slightly askew as a result of the recent Holiday Magazine restaurant kudos. Without any forewarning, Carprice came in for honorable mention, but Kirby has it in his noggin that if Holiday had looked his place over a little more closely they would certainly have made an outright award.

I DIDN'T DISCUSS it before, but I believe that John Weiland's beard is now sufficiently past the scraggle stage to bear honorable mention. John, new co-owner of the Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, believes in carrying out the old time decor to the last detail. Besides, the beard, he's also had his tailor fit him out in the proper garb for the 80s or the 90s—whenever it was the Blue Rock had its heydey.

Complete dinners here are running $3.50 and $5.50 (a la carte about 75 cents less). Top items are New York Steaks at $5.25 and "Diamond Jim Cut" price rib of beef at $5.50.

Special smorgasbord lunch will run you $1.95 but you have a choice of more than 40 tempting items. You can go lower on sandwiches—or higher if the sandwich has a steak in it.

YES — THIS IS VACATION, and it may seem odd that I continue to write a restaurant column.

But simply because I haven't yet found a way to vacation without eating somewhere, and even though there may be more smoke over the family barbecue pit these days, every dinner out is like a postman's holiday.

For instance, a jaunt up the coast last week found us at an old favorite—Cazanoma Lodge in Cazadero, where Agnes and Walter Lenk have their place buried away in the woods by a creek and waterfall.

It's only open for lunch on Saturdays now—but every night for dinners during the summer season. American dinners, if you like—steaks and lobster and things, but you'll do well to run your eyes up and down the next page where the listings are sauerbraten, rouladen, kasseler rippchen, hosenpfeffer und ente mit kirschsauce. (roast duckling served with cherry sauce—all in the good old German style.

For lunch? Catch your own trout, if you like. There's a pool by the waterfall, well stocked. And have them served up as fresh as the breeze through the pines and redwoods. Or sauerbraten, or something. There are several dishes to appeal to anyone. It's all good. The place is the thing.

Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?

Well, not for *every*body.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

Assembly Passes Crankcase Plan

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Assembly has given final passage to a major bill which will require both crankcase and exhause anti-smog devices on all new cars sold in California in 1966 or later.

The house voted 59-9 for SB-317 by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, as presented in the Assembly by Assemblyman Thomas Carrel, D-San Fernando. The bill must be returned to the Senate for concurrence in changes made in the Assembly but this was expected to be automatic.

The measure would require crankcase devices on cars from 1963 to 1965 models and on cars from 1955 to 1962, when they were transferred. It would apply only in air pollution control districts, which would involve most of the larger counties, other than Sacramento, Contra Costa and the eastern parts of San Bernardino and Riverside.

In 1967, exhaust devices also would be required on cars from 1955-65 upon transfer. The bill sets a maximum of $65 for the exhaust device. Crankcase devices cost from $10 to $15.

Both crankcase and exhaust devices would be required on foreign cars in 1968 and on non-diesel by 1969. Exemptions up to 1 per cent of a manufacturer's total sales could be granted.

The devices would be inspected at random by the California Highway Patrol. The bill provides for a $1 increase in automobile registration fees for the next three years to finance an increase in the strength of the CHP by some 2,500 officers.

SB317 has an urgency clause and would take effect as soon as it is signed into law by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Free On Bail In Attack Case

MARTINEZ (AP) — A 61-year-old teacher in a school for the mentally retarded was free on $3,000 bail today on charges of twice raping a 17-year-old girl pupil after enticing her with ice cream cones.

Edward B. Birch, a former Episcopalian minister, was arrested at his Pleasant Hill home. Booked at the Contra Costa County Jail he faces arraignment June 15 in Fremont.

MILKWEED? LOOK INTO INK WELLS

Somewhere in Marin County is a lady looking for milkweed. The Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum has a message for her: "We know where you can find it."

Last week the unidentified woman entered the museum and inquired about the location of the plant, because she needed milkweed to raise a butterfly.

Museum acting director Clara Evans consulted a botanist, who could find no information about the plant. But since then the botanist, Lilian McHoul of Larkspur, has discovered in a book on Marin flora that milkweed grows at the Ink Wells on Paper Mill Creek, off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and outside the boundaries of Samuel P. Taylor Park.

Sinking Vessel Makes It To Span Platform, Rescue

A San Rafael couple and another man climbed from their sinking boat last night onto a platform below the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge and were rescued 45 minutes later by the Coast Guard.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Hobelmann of 55 Summit Avenue, and their visitor, Jack McCoy of Milwaukee, Wis., escaped wet but uninjured after their 36-foot cabin cruiser, Riposo, struck an unlighted buoy near the bridge. Also rescued was the Hobelmann's toy dachshund, Willie.

Mrs. Hobelmann said she and her husband had been showing McCoy, a business acquaintance, some of the bay. They had left San Rafael, gone around Angel Island, tied up at Tiburon for dinner, and were on their way home when they hit the buoy.

Hobelmann radioed: "Coast Guard, can you hear me? I'm by the bridge and sinking."

The boat started to go down in a few minutes, but the tide carried it to the bridge. McCoy jumped into the water and secured the vessel to the piling. The Hobelmanns got off, and the three stood on the platform around the bridge tower, unsure whether the Coast Guard had heard the message.

The boat sank until only the cabin and part of the bow were showing. A Coast Guard 40-foot vessel from Fort Point took the three and the dog back to San Rafael.

Burglars Break Into Two Firms

Burglars broke into the Marin Frozen Food Lockers and the Black Market, taking money from cash registers, San Anselmo police learned yesterday.

Bars were pried off the rear window of the frozen food locker building at 224 Greenfield Avenue, and $20 in cash was taken from a cash register in the front of the building. The doors to the freezers were left open, but meat was not spoiled, police said.

At the Black Market, next door at 230 Greenfield Avenue, a screwdriver was used to pry open a rear second story window. A cash register in the Polynesian shop, a concession in the building was looted of $26 and another $50 was taken from the cash register of the Black Market itself, an import firm.

Smith River in Del Norte (town and river), was named for explorer Jedediah Smith, first American to cross the Sierra (1822) and view giant redwoods.

College Teachers See Ways For Pay Hikes

Teachers at the College of Marin last night showed the Marin junior college board where to find $246,446 to pay a requested 13 per cent salary increase.

They proposed levying two override taxes, using building funds for purchase of some equipment and community service funds for part of one salary, and cutting back on maintenance and administration.

Robert Becklund, faculty association president, said the things to cut first are those farthest from the classroom, although he agreed the cuts would in the long run hurt the educational program.

Becklund said "the present 35-cent tax is clearly inadequate for the operation of a system of the quality necessary to meet the educational needs of this community."

One over-ride, for a half-cent per $100 assessed valuation, would pay for health benefits for employees. The other, for three cents, would raise $120,000 for the adult education program.

Trustees made no comments on the report, which Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy had asked for last week in a challenge to Becklund to find ways of paying the teachers' salary request.

Board President Robert E. Oliver promised that a decision on salaries would be made next Thursday.

Becklund said the report was drawn up with a great deal of cooperation from members of the college administration. Vice President Paul Clymer agreed, but said that not all the recommendations by the teachers had unanimous support.

The report suggested that $24,669 worth of equipment for new buildings and new programs should be purchased with money from the special 35-cent override tax for construction, rather than from operating funds.

It also called for personnel cuts of $37,030 by not filling vacant positions or proposed jobs.. Among jobs it would cut is a proposed assistant dean for community services, at $12,400.

Cuts on maintenance of the grounds and buildings should be made in areas where the loss would be aesthetic, rather than to basic structures, the report said.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Approved working drawings for a new parking lot at the end of the football field, to cost $75,269 without landscaping, to provide 304 new spaces. The lot will cut off the track at one end of the football field.
2. Voted to move a glass wall on the second floor of the campus center now under construction, to increase the space of the lounge, at cost of $9,500.
3. Received the first of a series of monthly reportss from planning coordinator James Duke on building progress on campus, showing the campus center slightly behind schedule, and the millmen's strike threatening the timing.
4. Hired Frederico B. Rodriques as groundsman for $425 a month.

Trustees Robert E. Rogers and Joseph D. Gargiulo were absent.

Summer Session Is Slated

About 450 students are expected to register for summer school in the Larkspur School District, Supt. Milton Cohen reported to the district board last night.

The summer session will run from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. June 23 to July 23 at Neil Cummins School.

The board authorized advertising for bids on furniture for the five-room addition at Henry C. Hall School, to be opened in the administration office at 4 p.m. June 28.

The district will cooperate with the town of Corte Madera in installing a six-foot fence along the drainage ditch in the town park. The board agreed to pay not more than $900 as its share in the cost of the fence.

Next meeting of the board will be at 8 p.m. June 24 in the administration office.

NWP Is Honored For Safety Record

Northwestern Pacific Railroad has been awarded the National Safety Council's "Award of Honor" for achieving the lowest accident rate in its history during 1964.

The railroad's employees had only 3.94 injuries per million manhours worked in the year. NWP officials said this was 66 per cent better than the national average for railroads.

CHAIR LIFT OVER BAY? IDEA FAILED

A San Francisco resident has offered Tiburon an idea for "tapping the tourists."

In a letter to Tiburon Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge, he suggests operating a chair lift from Tiburon to Angel Island.

Everett B. Anderson also suggested in the letter that "an extension of the chair lift to San Francisco, to Russian Hill or Telegraph Hill, would increase revenue by tapping the tourists to whom a ride over the bay . . . would certainly appeal.

"The chair lifts could be covered with colored lights and be painted in bright colors."

War On Yellowjackets Is Expected To Pick Up

The war on yellowjackets has already started, but probably won't reach full pitch until next month, District Manager G. Paul Jones reported to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District last night.

So far this spring, district employees have destroyed 22 yellowjacket nests, Jones said. Large numbers of mosquito larvae also were destroyed June 2-4, when more than 2,000 acres of southwestern Sonoma County marshlands were sprayed.

District directors formally adopted a fiscal 1966 budget of $107,701.51, about $26 higher than the tentative budget approved last month. Although the budget is up more than $5,000 above this year's budget, the 2.5-cent tax rate per $100 assessed valuation will remain the same, Jones said.

The district's contract with Medlock Dusters of Davis for aerial spraying was renewed for another year, at the same rate of $50 per hour flying time.

'Lower Drink Limit'

TAHOE CITY (AP) — California should lower the legal drinking age from 21 to 18 in the opinion of Nevitt Sanford, head of Stanford University's Institute for the Study of Human Problems. Dr. Sanford also proposed yesterday that state colleges and universities should allow on-campus student drinking.

Fitzharris Is Due Degree, Gold Bars

David J. Fitzharris, 21, of 1235 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, will be honored as an "outstanding military graduate" and will receive his Army second lieutenant's bars tonight at graduation ceremonies of the University of California, Davis.

Mill Valley Pay Hikes Assured

Mill Valley city employees were assured tentatively of a two and one-half per cent across-the-board salary increase by the city council last night. Final action must be taken at adoption of the fiscal 1966 budget.

In addition, 54 of the 65 employees are to receive salary adjustments totaling $16,000, plus a life insurance plan to cost a total of $2,532 per year.

Employees had requested a 12 and one-half per cent increase. City Mgr. Bert Balmer had recommended the salary adjustments plus two fringe benefits only.

The increase was urged by Councilman George E. Wickham and backed by Mayor Michael Wornum, who said, "if necessary, let's cut out the proposed added park department man." Councilman Albert E White said he found the increase reasonable. Councilmen Joseph E. Sheeks and William M. Secor did not commit themselves.

The proposed budget, totaling about $1,800,000, is to be taken up next at a regular session of the council. It is about $200,000 over the current budget of $1,616,291. Tax rate, now $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation, has not been estimated yet.

Police Lt. William Walsh, spokesman for the Mill Valley Employees Assn., said the employees in a survey used the same 17 Bay Area cities as Balmer used in his survey. The association recommended employees be put in the upper one-third bracket of the cities; Balmer recommended they be brought up to median salary.

"It disturbes me that the fire and police are below the median now," said Wornum. "I think we should at least start with them on a median basis."

Balmer was asked to see which of the proposed new positions should be eliminated, in priority, and to find out if street improvements can come out of Blithedale Avenue widening funds.

In other budget matters, the council decided not to establish pay for city councilmen, Sheeks arguing strongly against it.

Councilmen agreed that the administrative assistant post not be filled but that a position of assistant city manager be established. Salary for the new job will be $8,724. Administrative Asst. Harold E. Soule now receives $7,030.

Balmer said the raise is warranted since the job means the addeduties of personnel officer.

The council agreed that the city engineer's monthly retainer be increased from $675 to $725.

Retirement fund, now $61,600, will go to $68,900, reflecting salary increases. Walsh told the council employees are still interested in joining the state retirement plan.

It was agreed to add a second passenger car and a second fire utility truck and to add $900 to the budget for a vehicle hoist at the corporation yard.

Under capital improvements, Balmer said it is hoped the $210,000 earmarked for Blithedale widening may be used for major street improvements such as Camino Alto, Blithedale and Miller. Other capital improvement funds include $268,600 for the small craft harbor, $6,000 for park improvements and $70,000 for a public safety building.

"I think there is a lot to be said for a bond issue," said Mayor Wornum.

Sycamore Avenue extension, costing $25,000, is expected to be done this fall, Balmer said, and it is planned to spend $4,000 to move some walls in city hall to make more usable space.

Balmer said nine cents can be lopped off the tax rate since cities should not have to pay the county fire structural protection tax.

Trial Scheduled In Road Death

Jury trial for David Howard Morton, 36, charged with misdemeanor manslaughter in the Saturday traffic death of a pregnant Daly City woman, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 9:30 a.m. Aug. 2.

Morton allegedly was driving his vehicle the wrong direction on Highway 101's Waldo Grade when he struck the vehicle in which Simone Ann Smith, 25, cocktail waitress, was riding. She died soon after of injuries received in the headon crash.

Morton, of San Francisco, is free on $1,100 bail.

Tree Action Asked And Pruning Voted

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The Mill Valley City Council was "besieged" at its budget hearing last night by Sycamore Avenue residents who insisted that the city prune "hazardous" and "diseased" street sycamores.

The most voluble used ammunition such as "President Johnson says we are supposed to beautify the country," "A tree might fall on someone and kill him," and "Why don't you do something for the old folks around this town?"

The subject was introduced by Councilman Albert E. White, who recommended $3,000 to $4,000 be budgeted for pruning trees on city right-of-way on a 50-50 basis with property owners.

Councilman William M. Secor suggested property owners prune their own trees, adding, "The first thing you know they will want the city to mow their lawns."

Leaping to his feet, citizen Ray Esperance of 206 Sycamore complained that many of the trees are diseased. He cited President Johnson's beautification wishes and said, "We are told that if you want to do something about taxes on property, go to the budget meeting . . . why should my house be evaluated from $15,000 to $18,500. Why? I haven't improved it at all."

"Nobody knows when a tree will fall down and, if it does, somebody will get killed," said Mervin Lassner, who also lives on Sycamore. "It is a city obligation to take care of those trees . . . Why don't you do something for the old folks around this town?"

George Rule of 29 Locust Avenue said he, too, felt the trees are diseased and should be trimmed.

But Robert Rudebeck, in the second row, said he felt the budget should be kept down and "face the trees later."

Wornum said in Mill Valley trees are political and he favors budgeting funds for pruning.

"What's the difference between pruning a tree or a rose bush?" asked Secor.

It was decided, pending final budget approval, to allot $3,000 for the tree pruning.

County Salary Request Stands

Directors of the Marin County Employees Assn. last night agreed not to alter the Association's request for a 5 per cent blanket increase in salary.

Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott and County Administrator Alan Bruce have recommended against the increase, saying it would add more than half a million dollars to the county payroll.

Association president La Verne Robinson reported the directors decided to let the request stand despite the recommendation against it.

"The board of supervisors still has made its decision," Mrs. Robinson noted.

Flood Burden Shift Urged

Shifting some of the financial burden of the Coyote Creek flood control project from the county to taxpayers in Flood Control Zone 3 was proposed today by Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said it makes sense in light of the decision against a county-wide flood control zone. Other supervisors liked the idea but decided not to take action due to the absence of Chairman Peter H. Behr.

The transfer would add $76,000 to be paid by Zone 3 taxpayers, increasing their zone tax rate from 25 cents to 39 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Fifty-two of the 82 mountain peaks over 14,000 feet elevation in the United States are located in Colorado.

Marijuana Smoke Clouds May Have A Silver Lining

Unfavorable publicity that the narcotic raids have heaped on Marin County and on Tamalpais High School is unfortunate.

However, so long as the problem did exist, especially in or on the fringes of a school campus, we are glad that the action was sudden, drastic, and as all-encompassing as possible.

This certainly will not stamp out narcotics in the county, but the scale of the roundup and the extent of publicity will no doubt put the county on guard against future users and pushers. We have been duly alerted to the fact that even marvelous Marin can have its unsavory elements.

We commend the state, county, city and school officials who cooperated to bring about the efficient and sweeping roundup.

Even more significant was the cooperation of the high school students themselves, and their parents.

In cases involving minor misbehavior or infractions of campus rules, young people tend to shield their fellow students from public exposure.

But these same students showed enough maturity to differentiate between relatively harmless pranks and the potential seriousness of marijuana traffic among young people.

Many of them spoke up, voicing alarm. Parents and teachers notified authorities. Parents cooperated with the law in permitting searches of their homes. When caches of marijuana were found, some parents turned their sons in to the police.

Without this cooperation from youth, parents, and school officials, the law enforcement network could not have operated so effectively.

The actions of students and parents in the current marijuana investigation are in sharp contrast to the all too prevalent anti-cop and anti-law enforcement attitude and to the "code" of some misguided youths which frowns on "squealing."

Despite the sting of unfavorable publicity, the school will be better off in the long run because of the cooperation of students in this case. And those who were caught in the dragnet will be better off in that they have been exposed and can be helped before they become seriously addicted, not only to marijuana but to more dangerous drugs.

Support Mental Health Drive

Mental illness is no longer a vague disease that can be shunted aside and ignored. It affects too many of us; its consequences are too tragic.

The Marin Assn. for Mental Health, not yet a member of United Crusade, is in the midst of a fund drive.

We urge widespread support to the fund campaign so that services offered by the association can be continued for the coming year.

Facts on mental illness are eye-openers:

Mental illness afflicts one out of ten hospital beds in the nation. With good care and treatment at least seven of the ten can leave a hospital partially or wholly recovered.

The Marin Assn. for Mental Health is the only voluntary citizens' agency in the county working for the promotion of mental health and dissemination of pertinent information to the public.

It staffs Ross General Hospital's psychiatric ward with volunteers. It also plans to send volunteers to staff the new Marin Ward at Napa State Hospital.

The association headquarters at 1005 A Street, San Rafael, serves as a channel of communication for mental health services in the county.

Will you give it the support that it deserves?

Civic Center Bond Success Held Partly Due To Fusselman Stand

By WAT TAKESHITA

PASSAGE OF the Civic Center bonds was quite an achievement, considering the short campaign and the two-to-one vote required for approval.

The Committee to Complete the Civic Center, headed by Fred Enemark and Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, and campaign manager Tom Page must have done a tremendous job of salesmanship.

Takeshita

Credit must also go to Peter Behr and his fellow supervisors, who spoke for the bonds at every turn. But the margin of victory may have come from a former supervisor, William D. Fusselman.

Always considered a foe of the Civic Center, Fusselman surprised many an I-J reader by coming out flatly for the Civic Center bonds in his "County Comments" column.

Harry Diner, who's in charge of picnic arrangements, says the Angel Island ferry "Gaycin" will leave the Tiburon ferry dock every half hour, beginning at 10 a.m. Just bring your lunch. MRC will provide beer and soft drinks, and barbecue fires for those who want to cook.

SPENCER ROBERTS and Associates, the political campaign outfit in Los Angeles, is apparently putting its talents behind the Ronald Reagan for Governor campaign.

This means that others like George Christopher and Thomas Kuchel, if they enter the race, will have to seek professional campaign help elsewhere.

Here's where Marin County could enter the picture. Among those who have established quite a reputation in Republican campaigns is Edward Slevin of Terra Linda. He might be picked to run a Northern California or state-wide campaign for a key candidate next year.

'Aginners' Declared To Have Worthy Role

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Never having met the gentleman who, according to your editorial on June 5, "has been pretty much of a one-man affair" in . . . the Marin County Taxpayers Assn., . . . feel sure he must be grateful for the publicity.

By the time you receive this the bond issue will be history. . . . Let us not have any Governor Brown type of operation of "no new taxes" but a bond loaded state.

We need more "aginners" looking over the shoulder of bureaucrats spending money as though it was going out of style, especially in the operations of our schools. If the "aginners" are right (who can judge?) in only one issue out of 20, their existence is justified.

Costs Of Progress Out Of Proportion

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Gemini flight is great for the morale of those who live in lovely suburbs like Marin, but: Last year we spent $12 million fighting smog in this country and $7 billion for aiming to get a man on the moon. We spend 8 billion dollars for war each time we spend ¼ million dollars for peace and disarmament. Where is our sense of proportion?

'Future Of Marin' Thoughts Recited

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The overwhelming conclusion to come out of the day-long conference at College of Marin on June 5, 1965, was the urgency for positive public policy through due process of our political system in planning the "Future of Marin."...

The many goals discussed were varied in selection. From a broad range of people distributed throughout the county, better community appearance, encouragement of light industry, preserve agricultural areas with sympathetic tax plan, and transportation; we were confronted by one question: "What would be the cost?" If we attack the problem now, we won't be adding our problems to those of the next generation. . . .

As Dr. William Wheaton said in his address: In the next 15 or 20 years the population of Marin will double . . . to about 400,000. Can you imagine one-third of that number trying to commute across the Golden Gate Bridge if there weren't any other mode of transport? . . .

Any mass transit plan must be accomplished in concert with all nine Bay Area counties. Any transit plan must be cognizant of the principal goal: The preservation of the bay.

By the same token the freeway problem in San Francisco cannot be solved until an integrated transportation plan is forthcoming for all counties.

There is the danger, with haphazard bay fill and "ad hoc" planning, our civilization may be improved out of existence.

Storer's Tax Trim Pioneering Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A pledge to cut taxes is really news, as in the Board of Supervisors' recent promise to reduce our tax rate in connection with passage of the hall of justice bond issue.

Although all the board members are to be congratulated for their unanimous "yes" vote, special credit should go to Supervisor Tom Storer . . . who offered the motion and then persuaded his colleagues to support it. This is good news for the people of the Fourth District . . . and for all Marin.

International Forum Necessary For Today

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I cannot refrain from replying to the very narrow provincialism expressed in W. R. Quigley's and Marguerite Armitage's letters.

The present world situation necessitates more than at any other time some kind of forum ("debating society" of Mr. Quigley). . . . Gunboat diplomacy and brow beating . . . possibly worked for Theodore Roosevelt but certainly not in the nationalism and political atmosphere of today.

No doubt Mr. Quigley and many others would be quite surprised to discover that talking with others, even Communists, can be stimulating, helpful and useful. . . .

The political tensions in our world cannot be resolved by the United States alone. What could possibly be more useful than an organization representing over 100 nations of the world where . . . exchange of thoughts is possible?

It should be about time that we discover that the weal and woe of any country is . . . our own.

U.N. Flag Use Raises Etiquette Question

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At a recent "Marin Sounding Board" discussion on KITM, Mr. Wiley, president of the Marin Chapter of the United World Federalist organization, made several statements which I take exception to, but the most astonishing one . . . that two schools in Marin County had flown the United Nations flag on "special occasions" . . . to the right of the United States flag!

If Mr. Wiley is truly setting out to educate school children on the purpose of the U. N. . . . then he should be ready also to teach them the proper rules for the flying of flags. No flag ever is flown to the right of the United States flag.

I feel, along with Mr. Whiteaker and Mr. Woodward that a picture of the U. N. flag should be enough. . . . Surely our school closets are not filled with flags of all the nations . . . just so the children have a first-hand knowledge of what they look like! Sort of incongruous, isn't it?

Employees Grievance Protection Sought

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Amen to your June 3 editorial. Had this same belief prevailed in 1962 and 1963, many good teachers and much money might have been saved. Now, in 1965, you seem to understand a serious problem. Please do not forget. Whenever a public employee is muzzled or forced to seek legal assistance, ask very pointedly why such extremes became necessary and demand a cogent answer.

The I-J should encourage legislation clearly defining the right of the employee to go directly to the employer under certain conditions together with penalties if that right is abridged or prevented by another employee. Everyone would benefit and boards would be assured of hearing both sides, not one carefully managed version, of an issue.

Nasser's Unilateral German Feud Hurts His Arab-Nations Position

CAIRO — President Gamal Abdel Nasser has suffered a serious setback in his leadership of the Arab world.

The Arab nations need Egyptian leadership to achieve the unity they all affirm they want and the president of the UAR is the natural focus for this leadership.

But it is increasingly evident that this unity cannot be imposed by force or by dictation. It can only be brought about by persuasion.

IN HIS CONFRONTATION with West Germany over Bonn's recognition of Israel, Mr. Nasser sought to impose his will singlehandedly and without consultation.

This is why he failed to get the solid Arab front which he must have thought he could wave into being by the force of his own words.

This is why three Arab nations — Tunisia, Morocco and Libya—refused to follow his lead.

This, in part, is why Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba spoke out in favor of continuing friendship with West Germany and for keeping the door open to a tolerable reconciliation with Israel.

It would be misleading to read the division among the Arab countries over Mr. Nasser's impetuous handling of his dispute with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard as leading to any early tempering of the Arab hostility to Israel.

THERE ISN'T. Some may think that the Arab feeling toward Israel is wholly emotional and in large part fabricated as a means of promoting Arab unity where it doesn't exist. I have not found it that way. It is unrealistic and unproductive. But the evidence here is that it is genuine and substantially unabated.

What needs to be understood is that none of the principal Arab leaders, including President Nasser, wants an explosive confrontation with the Israelis. There are no fundamental differences between Mr. Nasser and Mr. Bourguiba on this matter. My information is that President Nasser will be found saying privately some of the same things President Bourguiba has been saying publicly.

ALL OF THIS is to say that the Arab nations do not want the conflict with Israel to erupt into war, but that any real abatement of hostility, despite the softer words from Mr. Bourguiba, is not in the making. Nor is any compromise in prospect.

Mr. Nasser's attempt to punish the West Germans for recognizing Israel has not done him any good. It has almost certainly done him harm.

The annoyance of the other Arab nations at President Nasser's assumption, that they would automatically join him in recognizing the Soviet satellite regime of East Germany and break relations with West Germany as a slap to Bonn, was much greater than appeared on the surface.

In the end Tunisia, Morocco and Libya stood out against Cairo's unwelcome maneuver. But other Arab capitals went along with Mr. Nasser part way, only so as not to break the Arab front too severely.

The whole maneuver was ill-conceived. There is every probability that the rupture with West Germany will be temporary. Egypt is clearly stepping back from recognizing East Germany and most observers here believe Cairo will resume relations with Bonn in a few months. A continued break would hurt the Arabs and help the Israelis.

PRESIDENT Nasser's leadership in the Arab world is needed. No one else can provide it. But recent events show that it will be effective only if it rests on consultation and persuasion, not on attempted dictation.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Right-To-Work Law Future Problematical

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson and his laborite allies still have quite a way to go in their avowed intention to repeal Section 14(b) — empowering the states to enact right-to-work laws.

SO FAR, they haven't got the votes.

Whether enough to be pressured into line when this intensely controversial issue comes to a showdown remains to be seen. The president has made no move yet to personally apply the heat. His well-known "treatment" tactics could make a distinct difference.

Backstage administration strategy is to delay action on the proposed far-reaching revision of the Taft-Hartley Act until the close of the session when the president's "Great Society" measures have been disposed of. To what extent he then will involve himself in the Section 14(b) battle is conjectural. Opinion varies widely on that in both camps.

THE HOUSE will be the key battleground for several reasons: The opposition now has the edge there; if the House votes repeal, that will greatly improve its prospects in the Senate. If not, that will end the matter; it won't come up in the Senate at all.

Republican votes will be needed in both chambers to put over this labor demand. There are not sufficient Democratic votes to do it, particularly in the House. The GOP is carefully sidestepping a party stand on this touchy issue. House Republicans discussed the subject at a policy meeting last week, but did nothing about it. Senate Republicans haven't done even that.

Private claims differ considerably on the likely extent of GOP backing for repeal. In the House, they range from 15 to 28. In the Senate, from 4 to 8.

In both chambers, opposing leaders agree the deciding margins will be very close. In the House 10 to 15; in the Senate 3 to 6. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is saying the outcome there will be the tightest on any major administration measure.

Both Democrats and Republicans plan to offer other amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act. Most of them will be aimed at the National Labor Relations Board, which administers this law. Their prospects are uncertain, but the chances are strong that, if repeal is voted, it will be accompanied by other revisions.

On reason for the doubts on how much the president will throw his personal weight into this fight was a discussion between Rep. William Ayres of Ohio, senior Republican of the labor committee considering this legislation, and AFL-CIO president George Meany.

Ayres: "In the past several months, you have had several conferences with the president. Did you request any other changes in the National Labor Relations Act other than repeal of 14(b)?"

Meany: "In my meetings, I didn't request anything along that line. Repeal of 14(b) is in the platform adopted by the Democratic national convention. It is the platform he ran on. I assume he feels that is his obligation."

Ayres: "In other words, repeal of 14(b) is in the Democratic platform and you have confidence in thinking the president will follow through in backing up that platform."

Meany: "That is right. I can tell you we worked very hard to get this in the platform."

"Old McDonald is happy now." That's what friends are saying about James Archie McDonald of Mill Valley who died last week.

"He's happy now. He's in the spirit world. He's at peace. He has no more taxes, doesn't have to worry about his house anymore." McDonald had been active in spiritualist work and was also an amateur puppeteer.

Serge Trubach, Sausalito artist, has a new saying he is proud of. It goes, "Too many people are playing the cello while Marin burns." Asked if he will run for city councilman next year, he said, no, not unless drafted.

WE MET SANDY Stewart at Muir Beach this week who lives in a beach house and plays guitar while carrying on a conversation. A very pleasant person, when asked what he is, he replied, "I'm just anything. I do some carpentry, some painting and my last job was as cook at the Caprice in Tiburon."

"It's kind of funny living where people come on the weekends. It's like living in a resort. We usually go to the city on weekends." Stewart plays classical and flamenco guitar and has a vegetable garden in back of his hut. Asked what he finds important, he said, "I don't know" and then asked his friend. His friend said, "Your guitar."

FLOWER-MINDED Norman Black ran into some daisy trouble the other day. He had an idea that the fence along a vacant lot on Sunnyside Avenue across from his florist shop would be much more attractive if he planted some Marguerites in the planter strip.

He would supply the daisies. Getting approval from a city official, the holes were dug and the Irish owners of the adjacent property arrived and said "no." The holes were refilled. Ross Benson advises that the planter strip is public property but that since care of it is up to the owner of fronting property, the owner should be first asked for permission before planting is done.

WE TALKED to the "pot holder lady of Sausalito" the other day. Since 1956, starting first at the fish market on the wharf, she has made 8,518 pot holders for the Sausalito Salvage Shop. She makes them striped, plain, flowered, all with a loop on top for hanging.

"I do it assembly line," said Mrs. L. C. Tichenor, a retired secretary. She uses an electric machine, makes the stuffing from old, well-washed bed pads, the covers from scraps of cloth. One of our workers has 75," said Mrs. Tichenor. "She can't resist pot holders."

The shop at 19 Princess Street will celebrate its 25th anniversary next week. About $7,000 a year is raised by the shop workers for charities. Pot holders run 10 cents apiece.

BEST BIRD STORY of the week was about a baby swallow which fell from a second story eave between the Sausalito City Hall and Ruby's Cozy Cafe. Hazel Pieracini spotted it and she and Ruby put a tiny pan in the crack with water and fed it bread crumbs. Three days later, said Ruby, the bird skittered across the sidewalk and flew away.

Our wild flower correspondent of Stinson Beach, Roberta Shockey, reports that the Mariposa tulip this year is the best in about 40 years. "All over the state," she explained.

We dropped by Warren Anderson's old red house the other day in Frank's Valley, site of the Rare Plant Club headquarters and place to buy redwoods from Asia.

Planning to say hello to Anderson, we found the state which had bought the property, finally persuaded him to move.

Doors were barricaded, there was an old dirty cloth hanging in the front window and signs posted on the walls read: "State park property. All features protected. This is your heritage — Help guard it." Many of the rare plants were long dead but a great many, mostly redwoods, were not — probably in respect to Anderson who loves plants.

Defendant Freed By A Few Inches

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — The lack of height won Oliver Whitaker, who stands 5 feet 4½ inches, acquittal on an armed robbery charge in Circuit Court.

Judge Arthur V. Essington ordered him freed after comparing the defendant's height with that of his accuser, Terry Alfredson. Alfredson told police that a taller man than he held him up.

Judge Essington stood the two men together in the courtroom and found Whitaker to be "at least three inches" shorter than Alfredson.

Space Twins May Not Always Display Sweetness And Light

WASHINGTON — The announcement that the next American space flight may be for eight days was greeted with mixed reactions by those of us who worry about such things. While astronauts McDivitt and White seemed to get along okay (McDivitt did call White a dirty dog for messing up his windshield), there must come a time when two men in a small capsule are going to start getting on each other's nerves.

I predict it will come around Gemini 11, when two astronauts, Major Alpha and Commander Beta have been in orbit for 12 days.

Suddenly Alpha says to Beta, "You forgot to put the top on the food paste tube."

BETA REPLIES. "Big deal, so I forgot. I'm getting sick and tired of you cleaning and dusting the capsule all day long."

"I happen to like a neat ship. And I don't enjoy picking up after you, either. You left your socks on the heat shield yesterday."

"My socks were wet and I wanted to dry them. There aren't too many places you can dry socks in this thing, you know. I took this trip so I could get away from all my wife's nagging and you're getting worse than she is."

"WELL, I DIDN'T volunteer to be your maid. I've got lots of other things to worry about."

"Im sick of your bickering. I'm going for a walk."

"Will you be back for dinner?"

"I don't know. You eat when you want to."

"Well, shut the hatch when you go out. I just cleaned the floor. And, by the way, would you mind taking the garbage out?"

"Yes, I would mind. Every time I go out you ask me to take the garbage with me."

"WHERE YOU BEEN?" Alpha wants to know.

"What do you mean, where have I been? I told you I was taking a walk."

"Well, how do you expect me to sleep when you're out walking in space?"

"Were there any calls for me?" Beta asks.

"Your wife called."

"What did she want?"

"How do I know? I told her you weren't here."

"THAT WAS a dumb thing to say. Why didn't you tell her I was taking a walk?"

"Listen, just because we're up here together doesn't mean I have to cover for you every time you leave the space ship."

"Who else called?"

"The president."

"What did he want?"

"He wanted to know if we could go down to the ranch on the week end."

"ARE YOU going?"

"I thought I might."

"Then I'm not going. When I make my re-entry I'm not going anywhere with you."

"That goes double for me. If I never see you again it will be too soon."

"Who made up my bed?"

"I made it up."

"LISTEN, ALPHA. If I want my bed made up I'll make it up. Do you understand?"

"I think we ought to step outside and settle this once and for all!"

"That suits me fine!"

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Let's Not Make Same Mistakes On Second Phase Of Civic Center

FUSSELMAN

NOW THAT THE ELECTION is over, I feel free to talk to you about some things that I know about the present administration building at the Civic Center. I have wanted to do this for several years, but have hesitated. As you know, I have urged for years that large expenditures be submitted to the people to vote on. At the same time, I didn't wish to have anything I said discourage a yes vote on bonds, which, you also are aware, I believe is the most economical, if a heavy tax for some years is to be avoided.

FIRST LET ME SAY that, irrespective of my position during the turbulent days before purchasing the Civic Center site and erecting the building, I have firmly believed that the architects of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation desired to produce a good structure. I know that they have been sincere in that respect, at all times. This, though, was the first governmental building they had designed and, as in all things, the first time around on any project leaves many improvements to be desired.

I WILL TELL YOU about what I have alluded to above, as purely objective and constructive criticism. I spent over two years in the building and know whereof I speak. The entrance arch is so designed and located that it becomes a terrific wind tunnel most of the time, even though two spaces west of the building, where I parked my car, it would be perfectly calm. Then, in walking through the tunnel and engaging in a conversation in a normal tone of voice, one suddenly is deafened by the word being apparently shouted. This occurs at the spot where freight is received (a sort of cavern).

THE ESCALATOR only runs to the second floor, then there has to be a transfer if one is going to the third or fourth floor. There is a single passenger elevator at the front with a second one deep in the building, on the right as you enter. Many people are unaware of this. There is another elevator used for freight which opens into the library only on the fourth floor; into the main passage on the second and third floors and into the shipping department only on the ground floor. In an emergency things could get somewhat sticky.

THE CENTER WELL in the building is interesting from an artistic point of view, but is space wasted from the standpoint of governmental housekeeping. That area could have been used for the main hallway and the two inner decks on each floor would have been available for added office space. The decks on the outside of the building are used almost solely by tourists or visitors who look out over the landscape and take pictures of the countryside from there. They rarely glance inside. In fact, the windows of most of the offices are hung with drapes. The use of such large areas of glass causes many of the offices (on the west side) considerable discomfort from the heat. The outer contour of the building could have been maintained and the decks could also have been made available for office space.

THE SUPERVISORS HEARING ROOM has such a glare from he balustrade of the outside decks that members of the board have great difficulty in recognizing the people addressing them during any bright day.

THERE IS ANOTHER phase of the whole affair that I believe should be touched on now—the maintenance cost of the building and these some 35 acres of grounds comes to about half million dollars a year, so we must all be prepared for the escalation in these maintenance costs.

THERE ARE OTHER MATTERS that could be touched on, but this should be sufficient for me to make the final comment. I have a personal friendship with the principal men in the foundation group and over a year ago I said some of these same things to them in my office. They know my sincerity and fairness and have repeatedly said so.

THE BOARD and everyone involved has a great responsibility in this project. It is going to cost millions and will be here for a long, long time. I believe the board would do well to appoint a good knowledgeable committee of citizens as they did to sell the bonds to the voters. This for consultation and study before plans are finally approved and even after that.

Active Stocks Make For Moderate Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today closed with a moderate gain. Trading was fairly active.

Brokers regarded the action as a technical rise, watered down to some extent by profit taking.

Gains of more than 2 were posted for DuPont and Kennecott. Also up about 2 were American Smelting and Merck. IBM, Phelps Dodge, Ford and Consolidated Natural Gas rose a point or so.

Chrysler, U.S. Steel and Radio Corp. were among fractional gainers.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.8 million shares compared with 7.45 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points were made by leading issues.

In the higher-priced bracket, IBM gained 4. The company plans a joint venture in an office copying machine with American Photocopy which advanced more than a point for a big percentage gain in heavy dealings which made it look like the most-active stock.

Motorola rose about 3, Zenith close to 2, Kennecott a full 2 points and Fairchild Camera nearly 2.

Weakness in some airlines marred the advance. Eastern Air Lines lost 3 and KLM well over a point.

Auto stocks improved early gains. Ford and General Motors were up about a point each and Chrysler around half that. The trend was higher also among steels, rails, nonferrous metals, building materials, drugs and aerospace issues.

Korvette sank more than 2 points following the resignation of its president.

Office Moved

Patrick Leader, certified public accountant, has moved his San Rafael office to the Albert Building, 1010 B Street. He said his expanding accounting and tax practice required larger quarters.

Chrysler Sets New Record

DETROIT — Passenger car production at Chrysler Corp. has set an all time model year production record as the 1,239,169th car of the 1965 model year rolled off one of the assembly lines in Detroit, Los Angeles, St. Louis or Newark, Del.

The previous model year record was set in 1952 when 1,239,168 units were produced.

Present 1965 model year production schedules call for an additional 200,000 passenger cars. This would be a 16 per cent increase over the previous record when 1,130,020 units were produced during the 1964 model year.

Company Purchased

SAN FRANCISCO — Fiberboard Paper Products Corp. and Yuba River Lumber Co. have purchased for cash in excess of $15 million the assests of Pickering Lumber Corp.

VICE-PRESIDENT — James W. Guerin of 534 Canal Street, San Rafael, has been named a vice-president of Rafferty and Co., San Francisco municipal consulting firm. He spent nearly 10 years as head of the municipal financial advisory service of Schwabacher and Co.

Dividend Declared

HAWTHORNE—The board of directors of Mattel, Inc., toy manufacturers has declared a quarterly cash dividend of 10 cents a share on the outstanding common stock.

Cepeda Out Of Lineup Costs Giants In More Ways Than One

CONNOLLY

There isn't any yardstick by which you can measure, in usefullness to the ball club, what the loss of first baseman Orlando Cepeda means to the S.F. Giants. His salary and expenses for 1965, in round figures, is infinitesimal, compared to the ball club's loss of his bat. One Giant enthusiast claims if Orlando is out of the Giant lineup for the full season, his loss might easily run more than a million dollars. Broken down it revels such item:

(a) could cost the club a pennant and an extra million in receipts.

(b) removes a colorful performer, affecting attendance.

(c) slashes in half his future sale value, once rated $500,000.

(d) to replace him via purchase or trade, could cost $200,000.

The prestige of a pennant to the club, to the city and surrounding communities, dollarwise, is astronomical. Past estimates, by various research experts, say more than $10 million changes hands in and near a World Series city. Home attendance sky-rockets in the closing days of a head to head fight to finish first.

CEPEDA,IF healthy and playing regularly, has to be classed as a super-attraction. He once was voted the most popular player on the Giant roster.

A ball player like Cepeda, with a mended knee, shrinks 50 per cent in value when placed on the open market. There are clubs in organized baseball who would have laid out $500,000 for Cepeda's contract. Today that sort of price tag no longer exists.

The Giants traded away Bill White, now with the St. Louis Cards, to install Cepeda as a regular first sacker. If the Giants were in the market today to acquire a player of White's caliber, he would be considered a $250,000 bargain.

But there are no Bill White's available today so the shortage puts an inflationary price on anyone with a potential of White.

THERE HAVE BEEN some smart crackers who blame a spring training camp footrace between Cepeda and manager Herman Franks for the knee setback. Perish the idea. If Orlando was to play at all, he had to run. What happened when he tested his knee could have happened the first time he attemped to run to first base in a regular ball game. And besides, at the time of the now famous foot race, Cepeda felt like his knee was 100 per cent okay.

Horse-play by ball players, it is true, has cost many of them a full career in the majors. The late Justin Fitzgerald threw his arm out in a Philly spring camp and never could get back into the big leagues.

Fitzgerald remained to the end of his career strictly a minor league outfielder with a MAJOR LEAGUE BAT AND SPEED but had no arm to match his other sterling attributes.

The aftermath of Cepeda's knee operation no doubt will put the damper on a lot of repeat operations on the knees of ball players.

CLUBOWNERS IN the future will hesitate before agreeing to surgery such as Cepeda's where there is the slightest risk involved.

There have been quite a few similar cases in baseball to match the fate of Cepeda but few, if any, range in the same bracket, in money. Just a year ago Chicago Cubs lost a million dollar second baseman when Kenny Hubbs crashed to his death in a plane mishap.

"Walter" Mails, now drum thumper par excellant of the Giants, returning from a Cleveland World Series many years ago, was prevailed upon to pitch at a San Quentin ball game and consented, without properly warming up. The aftereffects of that friendly gesture gave Walter arm-trouble and shortened his major league career.

LOUIE GUISTO, a Wolrd War I veteran who blossomed as no other first sacker of his time did, suffered a re-occurance of mustard gas effects and was forced to leave the lineup whenever the clubs ran into hot weather.

Looking on the cheerful side of Cepeda's fate, there is a silver lining in the cloud. He is dead set on continuing his treatments and swears he'll play before the 1965 curtain comes down.

NCAA Allows Members In AAU Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — In a conciliatory gesture in the current wrangle over American amateur sports, the president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association offered today to sanction the Amateur Athletic Association Track and Field championships.

The president, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate, made the stipulation that "the AAU grant permission of NCAA certification and USTFF sanction."

The AAU meet will determine the team that the United States will send to Moscow to compete against Russia this summer. Unless the way is cleared for college athletes to compete the United States may lose the services of such stars as Randy Matson of Texas A&M, world record holder in the shot, and Gerry Lindgren of Washington State, who won the 10,000 against the Russians in 1964.

Sanction in athletic parlance means formal approval of a meet. The USTFF is the United States Track and Field Federation, sponsored by the NCAA.

"Members of the NCAA are perfectly free to enter their student-athletes in any track meet, including those conducted by the AAU," said Barnes in a statement to news media.

"The only requirement is that the AAU grant permission of NCAA certification and USTFF sanction of such meets. In like fashion, the NCAA and other USTFF members are perfectly willing to welcome AAU sanction of their meets in which AAU members compete."

CROTHERS FINALLY BEATS SNELL

3-2-1 ALLEN BLASTS OFF

Phils Blank Dodgers 4-0

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Which is testimony to the number of baseballs the lithe Philadelphia third baseman has placed in orbit recently with tape-measure blasts, rivaling those of Mickey Mantle and Frank Howard.

Allen already claims a couple of 500-foot rockets this season, and he approached that distance again last night with a home run that soared high over the leftfield roof, landing an estimated 485 feet from "The Cape."

The launching came with a man on base and was followed by another homer, by Dick Stuart, which enabled the Phils and Ray Herbert to sink the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0.

Milwaukee drubbed Chicago 6-4, Cincinnati outslugged St. Louis 8-7, San Francisco blanked New York 3-0 and Pittsburgh edged Houston 4-2 in other National League action.

Johnny Podres was the victim of Allen's orbital shot in the three-run sixth inning. The victory was the second for Herbert in as many starts against the Dodgers and his 100th career victory and 13th shutout. He allowed only seven hits and did not issue a walk.

Allen powered one of the longest homers in the history of Connie Mack Stadium May 29 when he drove a pitch by the Cubs' Larry Jackson over a billboard atop the left-centerfield stands. The ball hit a tree on Woodstock Street, an estimated 500 feet away. Only one other player—Joe Adcock—has cleared that billboard.

Bob Veale struck out 11 and allowed eight hits as the Pirates took over fifth place with their sixth straight triumph and 18 in the last 20 games. Willie Stargell hit his 13th home run for two runs in the first inning and Donn Clendenon added his fourth roundtripper in the sixth off loser Bob Bruce of the Astros.

Hank Aaron and Rico Carty belted home runs as the Braves sent Larry Jackson, a 24-game winner for the Cubs last season, down to his eighth loss in 11 decisions. Winning pitcher Tony Cloninger walked seven and allowed five hits in seven innings.

Frank Robinson's 300th major league home run and a bases-loaded triple by Leo Cardenas sparked the Reds victory over Ray Sadecki, who won 20 last year but has a 2-6 mark this season. Bill White hit two homers for the Cardinals. Reliever John Tsitouris (4-4) was the winner.

Giants To Send Rookie Against Streaking Bucs

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants move into Pittsburgh tonight and it would seem that San Francisco will have to pick up its hitting pace to stay on the victory trail.

The Giants are fresh from a sweep of the New York Mets in a series in which they managed only 17 hits in three days. last night Juan Marichal was tagged for seven hits, but still pitched his second consecutive shutout with a 3-0 victory. The crowd of 34,458 brought the series total to over 106,000 Shea Stadium fans for the three-game set.

Red-hot Pittsburgh has won 18 of its last 20 and will send Don Cardwell (3-2) to the hill tonight, while the Giants will counter with Bill Hands, the Pacific Coast League star who was hit hard in his only start for San Francisco last week.

After Willie Mays had beaten the Mets almost single-handedly the first two games, some of the other Giants got into the act last night.

Jay Alou and Jim Davenport cracked solo shots off starter and loser Gary Kroll to give the Giants a 2-0 lead after five. Marichal gave up most of his hits with none out so that he seemingly spent the whole night hurling with men on base, but he had it when it counted to run his record to 9-5. He fanned six and walked none.

It was Juan's third consecutive shutout over the Mets this year and he also took a 1-0 pulse-pounder over Cincinnati's Jim Maloney last Saturday.

The Giants pushed across their third run in the ninth when Mays and Hal Lanier singled and Len Gabrielson walked. Mets reliever Larry Bearnarth hit Davenport on the hand and a run scored.

The Giants, who had beaten the Mets on four and six hits, managed seven last night with seven different men collecting one apiece.

Bill Hyndman Eliminated In British Golf

PORTHCAWL, Wales, (AP) — Clive Clark, 19, an up-and-coming British player, knocked out the sole American survivor, Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, 3 and 2, in today's quarter-finals of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Hyndman's defeat meant that the Americans — out of an original entry of 34 — now have no one in the semifinals.

Clive Clark already had defeated the defending champion, Gordon Clark of England, 4 and 3, in Thursday's fifth round.

The matches were played in bright sunshine, with hardly a breeze to disturb the players, over the 6,700-yard, par-72, Royal Porthcawl links.

Hyndman said: "I gave him too big a start, but I have no excuses. I must say that this is the first time I played in a championship in which I was six under par and had to buy my train ticket home."

The American meant that his total performance in six rounds of the British Amateur was six under perfect figures, but nevertheless he was eliminated.

Hyndman made a gallant attempt on the back nine after being six down. He won the 12th hole when he hit a No. 2 iron to the green, 485 yards from the tee, and was lying only 15 feet short of the hole for a possible eagle. Clark pulled his second shot in an almost unplayable lie and hacked out to finally reach the green in five. The hole was conceded as a birdie four for Hyndman, and a six for Clark.

The American almost captured the 13th, but Clark saved it with a good chip for a half in

'WE WANT WORLD SERIES'

Another Braves Rebuff

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Boston-to-Milwaukee-to-Atlanta Braves have met another rebuff in efforts for early completion of baseball's longest double-play.

County Executive John Doyne, highest elected official in Milwaukee County, answered a cash-laden appeal by the Braves' management to move south for the rest of the summer by wiring hopes that the club would still be here in October for the World Series.

Doyne did not expressly refuse the $500,000 cash offer dangled by Braves' Board Chairman William Bartholomay, but told him in a telegram yesterday that he agreed the club was an aggressive, exciting pennant contender and added:

"I, speaking for myself alone, as County Executive of the County of Milwaukee, and for many loyal baseball fans in Milwaukee and Wisconsin, am looking forward to seeing the 1965 World Series played here in Milwaukee County Stadium."

Doyne has veto power over any action by the Milwaukee County Board, which is slated to consider the offer next Wednesday. County Board Chairman Eugene Grobschmidt offered his reaction to the Braves' request earlier: "To hell with 'em."

The ball club, which sought to move to Atlanta this season, was ordered by the courts and the National League to fulfill its contract to play all 1965 home games in County Stadium. Bartholomay wired Doyne, Grobschmidt and Teams, Inc., with iis $500,000 offer Wednesday for permission to move after July 10 instead of waiting until next year.

Teams, Inc., a group of businessmen seeking another baseball franchise, has offered $100,000 and the county $400,000. The organization said yesterday, "We fail to see how the acceptance of this offer would contribute to the achievement of Teams, Inc.'s. Primary objective of permanently retaining major league baseball in Milwaukee."

While the second place Braves have been winning on the field, box office losses have been heavy because of an unofficial boycott by fans. Bartholomay said season attendance would be "at best 400,000, some 1,200,000 below" the average at County Stadium since the Braves moved here from Boston in 1953.

Neither Pain Nor Cold Can Stop Mr. Juanderful

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Neither pain nor a cold, a running nose and watery eyes can prevent Juan Marichal from casting his spell over the New York Mets.

The stylish San Francisco right-hander not only whipped the Mets for the 12th straight time last night but, for the third time in as many tries this season, he set them down without a run.

The score was 3-0, giving the Giants a sweep of the three-game series.

Oddly enough, Marichal almost didn't take the mound. Still battling a heavy cold, the 27-year-old Dominican native approached Herman Franks a half-hour before the game and told the Giant manager he didn't fell well enough to pitch.

"I had a headache, my eyes were running and my nose was so clogged up that I could not see too well," Marichal said. "I told Herman I didn't think I could make it.

"But I finally agreed to give it a try and see what happens. Besides, we play Pittsburgh Friday and I probably wouldn't be any better then."

Marichal tried very hard. So hard, in fact, that he permitted the Mets only seven hits, three of the infield variety, struck out six and did not walk a batter."

"I really wasn't at my best," said Juan apologetically. "I didn't have a good curve ball. And I was a little lucky, too."

Marichal, who boosted his season record to 9-5 in turning in his fourth shutout of the year, had brilliant defensvie support from Willie Mays. Willie hauled in four long drives, three of them in his usual spectacular style.

Marichal's only real jam came in the seventh when Johnny Lewis doubled with one out and Charlie Smith singled him to third. Juan struck out Joe Christopher and then got Billy Cowan to hit into a force play.

Gary Kroll, who has beaten the Giants twice, was the loser. He left in the fifth after throwing home run balls to Jesus Alou and Jim Davenport.

Now back to Marichal's cold.

"The cold just won't leave me," he said. "I have had it for three weeks. I think it's an allergy. The doctors don't know what it is.

"I've got it since the trouble started in Santo Domingo. My wife and children are with me in San Francisco but my mother, sister and brothers live in Laguna Verde, near where the trouble is. I'm worried sick about them."

No pitcher in baseball owns a better record against the Mets. Don Drysdale of the Dodgers has whipped the Mets 15 times but they beat him once. Marichal is 12-0 against them.

"I'm just lucky against them," was Marichal's explanation. "That club is not a cinch. They are much better than they were two years ago.

"Look what they did to us in San Francisco. They beat us three out of four. And even though we won all three here, they gave us a battle every time."

SOME JAWING BY CASEY

New York Mets manager Casey Stengel argues with plate umpire Tom Gorman during the fifth inning of yesterday's Giants-Mets game. Gorman had awarded Giant pitcher Juan Marichal first base, calling Mets catcher Chris Cannizzaro for interference while Juan was batting. Cannizzaro disagreed and was tossed out of the game, with Stengel rushing to his defense. San Francisco won 3-0 and swept the series. (UPI Telephoto)

A.L. RIVAL FOR STRIKEOUT ACE KOUFAX

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The best advice Sam McDowell ever received was not to take any.

The 22-year-old Cleveland left-hander, a victim of the verbal handout, continued his outstanding pitching last night by striking out nine in a 4-1 victory over first-place Minnesota and becoming the first American Leaguer to reach the 100-strikeout level this season.

McDowell now has won three straight, lifting his record to 6-3 while proving that the amazing flip-flop he made after the middle of the 1964 season was only the first step toward justifying the $100,000 bonus the Indians paid out five years ago.

For it was only last season that McDowell, who took advice so readily he learned his pickoff move in a telephone conversation, began to listen to General Manager Gabe Paul and walk away from all the free advice he was getting.

"I had a brainstorm," admits McDowell, "I woke up."

"I'm a worrier," explains McDowell. "I was trying palm balls and everything else. I was trying to outsmart the batter instead of pitching the best way I can."

So, he closed his ears, opened up with the fast ball and curve after three previous shots at the majors had proved fruitless and put together an 11-6 record over the final half of the season.

And now he suddenly has blossomed into the league's strikeout artist, challenging Sandy Koufax for the major league lead. McDowell has struck out 108 in 80 2-3 innings to 119 in 101 1-3 innings for the Los Angeles Dodgers' southpaw.

While McDowell was showing his problems are solved, Baltimore's Wally Bunker took his second straight swing at the sophomore jinx, allowing only an unearned run while scattering eight hits in a 5-1 victory over Washington.

In the only other AL game scheduled, the Chicago White Sox moved to within 1½ games of the front-running Twins by downing Boston 4-2.

McDowell struck out Twins' slugger Harmon Killebrew three times and allowed Minnesota's only run in the second inning on a walk and singles by Jerry Kindall and pitcher Dave Boswell. He allowed only six hits until the ninth when the Twins threatened and Gary Bell finished up.

Camilo Carreon hit a two-run homer in Cleveland's three-run second inning uprising against Boswell and Leon Wagner wrapped up the scoring with a solo homer in the third.

Bunker, who had a 19-5 record last season but has been plagued by arm trouble, came through with his second straight strong performance, losing his bid for a shutout in the seventh inning when Dave Johnson's error contributed to an unearned Washington run.

Bunker, now 3-2, also collected a two-run single in the eighth inning after the Orioles had snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh when Johnson doubled and scored on a single by Russ Snyder.

The Red Sox led 2-1 and Dave Morehead was working on a three-hitter when the White Sox suddenly threatened in the seventh. Boston reliever Dick Radatz came on, hit Don Buford with a pitch to load the bases and then was tagged for a triple by Floyd Robinson.

Young Clark slammed the door on him though, with a good par four at the 15th for a half, and an equally able half in fours at the 16th, where Hyndman ran out of holes.

In the other quarter-final matches, Rod Foster of England defeated Alister Low of Scotland, 3 and 2; Michael Bonallack of England, defeated Paddy Hales of Wales, 5 and 4, and Martin Christmas of England defeated John Povall of Wales, 4 and 3.

Arizona St. May Clinch Title Tonight

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Arizona State, riding a 16-game winning streak, tries to sew up the NCAA College World Series championship tonight against underdog Ohio State.

The Buckeyes, who lost their previous series encounter with Arizona State, must win two in a row to claim the title. An Ohio State victory tonight would throw the series into a Saturday night title playoff.

The Sundevils eliminated St. Louis University last night with an easy 6-2 win after Ohio State's Steve Arlin turned in the series' top pitching performance, a 15-inning 1-0 win over Washington State. Arlin faned a record 20 batters as the Buckeyes eliminated Washington State by dealing it its second loss.

John Pavlik, a righthander, limited St. Louis to six hits. Arizona State jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning and sewed up the game with a three-run burst in the third.

An 'Almost' Ace By Mrs. Sanford

Mrs. Mark Sanford almost aced the hole to win the hole-in-one portion of yesterday's golf tournament at Marin Country Club, reaching within 4½ inches from the cup.

Lema, Casper Take Early Cleveland Open Golf Lead

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first round leaders in the $135,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament are nursing a variety of ailments, but their scores are healthy enough.

Billy Casper, the veteran Californian playing out of Peacock Gap in San Rafael, said he didn't think he would even play yesterday after surgery the night before to remove a hemorrhoid.

Champagne Tony, who rang up five birdies and a bogey in registering his 67, said he felt "lousy" because of a heavy cold.

"A few more birdies and I would have forgotten I had a cold," Lema jested after his impressive round.

"I thought it was going to be a long day when I bogied two of the first three holes," Aaron said. But the quiet, 28-year-old Georgian recorded six birdies to offset another bogey and stayed in contention.

For two of the tour's champions, it was a long day. U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi, plagued by a circulatory ailment in his hands, shot a 76 while PGA king Bobby Nichols came in with a 75.

Both were in danger of missing the cutoff after today's 18-hole round. The guess is that a score of 145 will be needed to stay in the race for the final 36 holes over the weekend and a shot at the $25,000 first prize.

Both Casper, who said he had his best putting round of the year, and Lema needed only 29 putts.

Mrs. Christie Wins Tourney

Class A—Mrs. R. J. Fuite, 2 over; Mrs. Norman Green, even; Mrs. T. N. Brown, 2 under; Mrs. John McGee, 2 under; Mrs. E. A. Ostaggi, 2 under.

Otto Graham Again Named Stars Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — Capt. Otto Graham of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy of New London, Conn., has been named to coach the 1965 College All-Star football team.

The All-Stars will meet the Cleveland Browns, champions of the National Football League, in Soldier Field on the night of Aug. 6.

The former Northwestern and Cleveland Brown quarterback named four former Browns and John Sauer, former Army football star, as his assistants.

The former Browns are Mike Scarry, who will handle the collegians' defensive line; Mike McCormack, who'll be in charge of the offensive line; Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, who will coach the receivers and flankers, and, Marion Motley, who will concentrate on the All-Stars' blocking.

Angelo Sabella Spins Some Tales; Bass Runs Are Expected Soon

STEVENS

The abalone was delicious, cooked just right; the wife's Crab Florentine was such that she raved over it; but, the confab I had with the boss, Angelo Sabella, was most interesting of all.

Anyone even remotely interested in fishing, sport or commercial, couldn't help being enthralled with the tall, but true, tales spun by Angelo. His vocation is, as most know, conducting a famous restaurant specializing in ordinary and exotic fish food, but his hobby is fishing, fishing mostly in the deep waters of the Pacific after salmon.

THE ONLY off-note in our midday session was his admittance that he invaded a pair of whales in the midst of some frolic.

In Angelo's desire to prove or disprove the story that salmon won't hit when whales are about, he drifted astern of his boat a tempting morsel of bait. A bull sea lion grabbed the bait and headed for the Labrador coast, taking with him part of Angelo's gear. Serves him right? Well, maybe.

Incidentally, cappy Sabella was out after salmon on Thursday and worked the area southwest of the Farallones, landed 14 smokers on his commercial rig. So it looks as though happy days are here for both commercial and sport fishermen.

ALSO, ANGELO set the record straight on the rumor of a fine run of big bass near the south tower of the G.G. Bridge. Told me the bass were all lunkers — "Running exceptionally large—18 to 25 pounds," he reported.

There is no question but what the long awaited schools of stripers have come in from the ocean, but chances are that the shoal of big ones won't migrate to the upper San Pablo Bay for a week or 10 days. We should hear from the live bait boats before the week is out, and Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor told me that Johnny Sivera on the Happy Days will test the late evening trolling on Wednesday. So we may hear some fishing news not confined to sturgeon, which reminds me that the boat Sturgeon with three persons fishing came into the Crockett Harbor with two large sturgeons—to 65 pounds.

CATCHABLE SIZE rainbows are or will be planted in the following local waters—by counties: ALAMEDA — Alameda Creek. LAKE—Anderson, Upper Kelsey and Lower Kelsey creeks and Upper Blue Lake. LAKE—Lagunitas Reservoir. MENDOCINO—Cleone Lake. MONTEREY—Upper Arroyo Seco, Lower Arroyo Seco. Big Sur River. NAPA — Hennessey Lake Impoundment. SAN FRANCISCO—South Lake Merced. SAN LUIS OBISPO—Chorro Reservoir, Lopez Creek, Lower Nacimiento River, Reservoir Canyon Lake, San Simeon Lagoon. SAN MATEO—Pescadero Creek. SANTA CLARA—Stevens Creek Reservoir. SANTA CRUZ—Corralitos Creek, Loch Lomond, Fall Creek, San Vicente Creek, San Lorenzo River. SONOMA—Lake Ralphine, Valley of the Moon Reservoir.

Crappie hauls in Clear and Berryessa lakes are still yielding. Shad are to be had in the Yuba River, the Mokelumne and Russian rivers.

Red-Hot Track Meet Begins In Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) —Third annual United States Track and Field Federation championships get under way tonight with about 350 athletes slated to compete in the two-night run in Bakersfield Memorial Stadium.

The USTFF is an offshoot of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the action here presents a final tuneup for the NCAA show next weekend at Berkeley, Calif.

Opening events each evening are set for 6:00 p.m., PDT.

A highlight of the meet is the anticipated contest between three of the nation's finest 2-mile relay teams, Oklahoma State, the world record holder; Villanova, and Southern Cal. t's set for tomorrow night.

The 440-yard relay is another leading attraction. Stanford, the world record holder and anchored by Larry Questad; the Tommy Smith led San Jose State; Nebraska, with Charlie Greene, and California's four are entered.

The mile relay features Abilene Christian, Oklahoma State, San Jose State, Southern Illinois, Drake, Southern California and undefeated California.

The 220 tonight has a field that includes San Jose's Smith, Greene of Nebraska, Earl Horner of Villanvoa and California's fleet Forrest Beaty and Dave Archibald.

Mercury powerheads are inherently quiet . . . and more powerful. They don't sacrifice power in order to reduce air intake noise by strangling it with plates and baffles. Mercurys get their inherent quiet from the exclusive internal reed valve system deep within the crankcase; Power-Dome combustion chambers, which "squish" combustion sound; small-bore, short-stroke engines, for tight fits and smaller clearances; offset wrist pins; 15 reasons in all.

New Silence. But 1965 means double quiet, because we have a new "floating capsule" engine cowling that traps sound inside, and a "wall of water" that surrounds Mercury's internal exhaust pipe to isolate and damp out noise within the drive shaft housing. That's why a national independent organization certifies the new Mercs are at least 50% quieter. You must drive 'em to believe the difference!

Instead of extending the exhaust pipe underwater and losing power through backpressure, Mercury fires the exhaust through a hollow Jet-Prop into the vacuum pocket behind the propeller hub. Exhaust sound and gases are buried far behind the boat . . . underwater drag is reduced . . . power to the prop is increased.

Your Mercury dealer will be glad to show you all 15 engineering exclusives from powerhead to prop that make Mercs 50% quieter . . . and give you more RUN for your money . . . 100, 90, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8, 6 and 3.9 hp.

Erratic Marin-Based Magazine Has Most Status In Far Climes

Story and photos
By ELLEN BRY

Rumors of the death of Contact have so far been exaggerated. But the magazine produced in Sausalito is in suspended animation, awaiting a transfusion of money.

The next issue will come out in a few months — if its three editors can get a non-profit, tax-deductible rating from the State of California.

This would mean that backers could deduct contributions from their income tax. The editors believe they can find a "dedicated group" who year after year would donate $1,000 to $2,000 each to keep the magazine going, for Contact has literally been a non-profit venture since its first pages were printed in 1958.

"All we want to do is get enough money to keep the magazine going," said the third editor, Calvin Kentfield of Sausalito.

Editors' guesses on the losses of the magazine run from $10,000 to $15,000 yearly. Publisher Nicholas R. Cox of Mill Valley has been the most recent angel for Contact, but he cannot continue to finance it alone.

No one who has read Contact or knows its editors would bet on the magazine's becoming a friendly, smooth periodical found on top of every television set, and so wealthy and successful.

"The only criteria is quality, what we think is the best, whether it's by established people or not," said Connell. "Economically it's a loser."

"We have the most relaxed, ridiculous editorial policy," Kentfield said.

"I was absolutely flabbergasted . . . I was astonished to find that Contact has a standing," Lamott said, telling of a trip to New York City where he talked to editors of other magazines of the genre.

The mechanics of its publishing are loose. Manuscripts are submitted by friends, writers, writers' agents, photographers, artists. Contact is a preferred place for a writer to be seen, a fact which astonishes its editors.

The writing that passes is thrown into a cardboard box for further reading by the "troika" or "triumvirate," as the editors call themselves.

On one Friday or another, the three start deciding what will see print.

"If we like it, we print it. We don't work consciously for the readers," said Connell.

The lack of interest in the magazine's audience means that readers must agree with the minds of three men — or be angered enough by them to continue reading.

The editors are all writers. Kentfield wrote the novels, "The Alchemist's Voyages" and "All Men Are Mariners," and short-story collections, "The Angel and the Sailor" and "The Great Wandering Gooney Bird." When money runs short, he ships as a merchant seaman.

Connel has just had a book of short stories published, "At the Crossroads." He has written the novels, "Mrs. Bridge" and "The Patriot," and another book of short stories, "The Anatomy Lesson." "Notes from a Bottle Found on the Beach at Carmel" is described by one of his co-editors as a "prose poem which is fiction."

Lamott is the author of "Who Killed Mr. Crittenden?" and "The Chronicles of San Quentin" and writes for Holiday and Show magazines. He works part time for Lester Gorsline Associates in Tiburon, consultants on hospital construction.

The editors are detached enough about their publication to have no idea of its circulation figures. The office manager in Sausalito finally came up with 3,462.

From a disorganized start seven years ago to the pridefully disordered publishing life today, no effort has been made to woo readers and keep them happy.

In New York, Contact is a "prestigious magazine," Kentfield said. It competes among the best of the U.S. literary magazines for contributors who aren't out for pay but want to be read by writers, agents, publishers.

Contact pays its writers, artists and photographers "a little tiny bit," Kentfield said, a raise from past days when contributors sometimes were paid in Contact stock. (The earlier company which published Contact and books went broke. Rumors of Contact's demise rise and fall as regularly as the tides.)

The troika is somewhat miffed at the "condescending" attitude, as Connell put it, of San Franciscans and Marinites toward Contact.

"The farther away from home you are, the better your reputation," Connell said.

Reed Pupils Do Well In State Test

Reed school district pupils "are achieving at a high level" in test scores, compared with those of other pupils in the state and throughout the nation, district psychologist Gail L. Cox said in a report to district trustees.

"Generally there appear to be few, if any, large differences between this year's test results on the California Test of Mental Maturity-California Achievement Tests and those of the preceding two school years," she wrote.

"A great majority of children in the . . . district continue to score well above the national norms for the CAT-CTMM and well above the California state norms for the fifth and eighth grades in all areas tested, with the possible exception of the CAT spelling subtest at the fifth and eighth grade levels, and CAT arithmetic a fundamentals at the eighth grade level . . .

"There appear to be good indication that students are doing somewhat better on the arithmetic fundementals at the third and fifth grade levels and spelling at the third grade level this year compared to last school year."

Redwoods reproduce from sprouts rising from the roots of mature trees, or from seeds which fall from their tiny cones. They grow phenonmenally fast—two feet in height annually for their first 70 or 80 years.

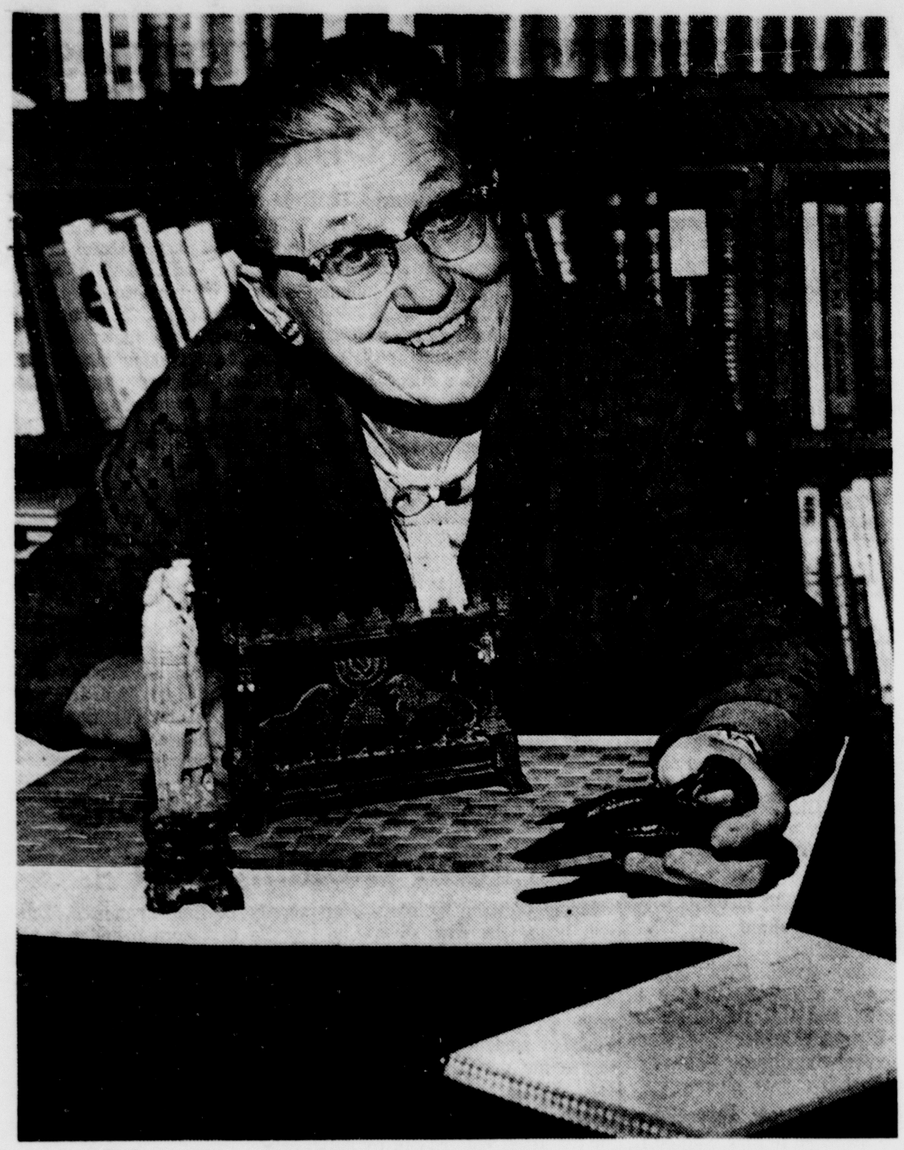
Development Of Creativity Is Hope For Future, Says Scholar



DR. MARGARET GREW is not a scholar just in the narrow, specialized sense of the word, for she holds a Ph. D. degree from the University of Leipzig in all of the humanities, including art. Collecting art objects is one of her hobbies. She holds a silver Hannukah chandelier or candle holder from Palestine, where she lived 14 years. The other objects are African and Chinese figurines. (Independent-Journal photo)

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

If there is any one word that describes Dr. Margaret Grew of Mill Valley that word is "scholar."

Born in 1896 in Leipzig, she has spent most of her life in scholarly pursuits. These were mainly in the field of education and psychology, but they were not narrow in the sense frequently associated with a specialist, for her doctorate degree was received from the University of Leipzig in all the humanities—including literature, history, art and religion.

TODAY AT 69 she still attends classes, most recently at the University of California and San Francisco State College, and conferences all over the state that deal with her present major interest in creativity.

In recognition of her personification of the American Association of University Women's ideal of an educated woman who makes learning a lifelong process while making her influence felt, the Mill Valley Branch of the organization has sent a $500 gift to the state fellowships chairman for an unendowed international fellowship.

Money for the Margaret Grew Fellowship was provided from the Branch's fellowships fund and proceeds from its recent "Exploring Creativity" lecture series.

DR. GREW INITIATED the study of creativity in the Mill Valley Branch in 1961, and at the national AAUW convention in Denver introduced a resolution stressing that knowledge of dynamic psychology is vital in all areas of education.

In 1964 the Mill Valley Branch, together with other branches in California, was responsible for the adoption at the state convention of a statewide study for one year of "Creativity: Its Identification and Fulfillment."

Last year Dr. Grew was a consultant to the state committee charged with the responsibility of this study, and this year she is a member of the committee responsible for implementation of the continuing study with focus on leadership.

She is also in charge for the Mill Valley Branch of the national topic "Science: a Creative Discipline."

IN AN INTERVIEW Dr. Grew expressed some interesting convictions on education, with special emphasis on the problems nvolved in developing creativity.

Holder of a certificate from the Eitingon Psychoanalytic Institute in Jerusalem signifying her qualifications to apply psychoanalytical methods to education, she is a strong believer in Freud's school of psychoanalysis and says that Freud is still not fully understood or appreciated.

"We are at a turn in the development of humanity," she maintained," that is as big as when Jesus brought Christianity to the world.

"In my opinion we have in this century gained knowledge of human nature that no generation has had before, and our problem now is to introduce it at all levels of education and in living, where it can be employed to develop individual powers.

"If we would use what we already know, regardless of what further research into the human mind reveals, we could change the world.

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE, Dr. Grew believes, lies in the development of creativity.

"It is something everyone, not just genius, is born with that can be developed or suffocated, but at present our education tends to develop conformity, and children suffer very much.

"Creativity has nothing to do with I.Q.," she pointed out, adding that "children of high I.Q. are likely to be conformists and popular with teachers, whereas creative children are non-conforming and not well liked."

AMONG OBSTACLES to development of creativity Dr. Grew named too early and too harsh socialization (discipline) of children and the conformity-producing effects of mass communications media.

"The question is, how do we equip the individual to use mass communications for his own benefit without becoming suffocated?" she asked.

"PARENTS MUST be educated because what a child learns at home, especially in the early years, is the most important influence in his life.

"Better schools and better psychologically trained teachers can help because if they are better, many things in the home would not have such serious consequences. It is when the school reinforces bad situations in the home that trouble develops and creativity is crushed.

After receiving doctorate and master's degrees in the humanities from the University of Leipzig, she took training at a special school for social workers in Leipzig and for ten years after completing it taught social workers and kindergarten teachers at the Pestalozzi Froebel House in Berlin.

SHE MARRIED AN old friend who was a singer at the State Opera. Finding themselves in opposition to everything Hitler stood for, they left for Palestine, where they lived 14 years.

They had two children, a daughter, now Mrs. Harry Rogers who is the wife of a San Francisco attorney, and a son, William J. Noe, an engineer, who lives in Puerto Rico.

Dr. Grew and her children came to the United States in 1948 with the help of relatives in Kansas.

After living one year in Kansas, she was invited to come to Arizona to do research work by the editor of a magazine whom she had met in Aspen, Colo., at Goethe's 200th birthday celebration.

IN TUCSON SHE and both of the children enrolled at the University of Arizona, where he continued her study of education and psychology. She was active in a nursery school and day care center and taught reading to the children in a parent cooperative kindergarten.

An interesting experience she recalls is teaching for two years in one-room schools the first in Manhattan, Kan., and the second in Shasta County near Redding after she came to California in 1954.

SHE OBTAINED the contract for the one-room rural school, which had all eight grades, at the same time she met and married her present husband, Frederick J. Grew, a Mill Valley public accountant.

After teaching there one year she and her husband moved to Mill Valley in 1955.

Inexpensive Wig Set For Summer

A wig for under $5 is what a huge chemical company promises the American woman by summer. At that price she can afford to be several of the seven shades from gray to redhead within a single day.

Naturally, at this price the hair isn't natural. But the makers claim it has certain advantages nature never thought of. The swimmer can wear the so called wonder wig over a wet head, or she can risk it to a rainy day.

Models at a press show demonstrated the bubble and the beehive, the two styles in which the wig is sold. Then they brushed these out, restyled them and lacquered the hair down. Maybe not much to touch, the look is effective anyway.

On this day in history:

In 1920, Sen. Warren G. Harding of Ohio was summoned to a "smoke-filled room" at the Hotel Blackstone in Chicago and told he would be the Republican Party's "dark horse" nominee for president.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Doubtful Overcalls Indicate Best Play In Bridge Game

"When in doubt, bid" is a good motto if your opponents are slow to double and thoughtless in the play of the cards.

When your opponents are good players you must take into account the danger of telling them too much.

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♡	2 ♠	Pass

Opening lead — ♡ K

Imagine that you are playing the South hand at four spades against opponents who have not bid. When you get around to the clubs, you will lead a club to the ace and return a club to play the queen from your hand.

LOSE TO KING

This will lose to the king, and you will therefore lose two club tricks and your contract.

When the hand was actually played, South knew that the "normal" club play would not work. West surely had the king of clubs for his overcall of two hearts, and some other club play would be necessary.

West opened the king of hearts, and East overtook with the ace and returned the deuce. West won and continued hearts, and South ruffed the third round.

TESTS TRUMPS

South drew two rounds of trumps and discovered that West was not short.

By now, South was reduced to playing West for the singleton or doubleton king of clubs since there was no way to make the contract if West had three clubs.

PLAYED LOW

When West played low, declarer finessed with dummy's nine. East won and returned a diamond to the king.

Now South led another low club, capturing the king with dummy's ace. He was in position to return a club and win a finesse with the eight, thus assuring the contract.

West thought he had gotten away with his overcall of two hearts because nobody doubled. He didn't realize that he had steered South to the winning line of play.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♥ A 2
♦ Q J 8 5 2
♣ J 10 7 6

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump.

The hand is not strong enough for a response of two diamonds. If partner had opened with one club, you would respond one diamond since the response of one of a suit does not promise unusual strength.

Taiwanese, Chinese From Mainland Closer Together

By SAM COHEN
Worldwide Press Service

TAIPEI—The schism is gradually closing between the 10 million Taiwanese and the two million Chinese mainlanders who have dominated Taiwan's government, army and business since they came here when Peking fell to the Communists in 1949.

A symbol of the change in attitudes becoming apparent here is Thomas Liao who returned to Taiwan from Tokyo last month after 18 years in exile as the self-styled President of the Provisional Taiwan Government. He had held out for independence for the island.

Taiwan has a Chinese culture, of course, but the Amoy dialect spoken here by the indigenous people is uite different from the mainlanders' Mandarin, now the official language.

Initially there was a tendency, especially in the countryside, to regard the influx from the mainland as simply a replacement for the Japanese who had occupied the island for half a century, until 1945.

But this outlook has been eroded by a combination of political stability, effective land reform, economic growth policies, and increased educational opportunities including education in the Army.

Land reform has enabled the Taiwanese peasants to buy their own land from income, and this incentive has boosted agricultural yields so spectacularly that total farm production on this island is now 500 per cent above the level of 15 years ago.

This has served to cope with one of the world's highest population growth rates—3.4 per cent—and also to make possible the development of food-processing industries which have won international markets.

United States aid helped underwrite this growth process. This aid will come to an end on June 30, with Taiwan able to boast of the second highest standard of living in the Far East and Southeast Asia.

Japan, of course, is first. Possibly more important than Taiwan's $150 per capita income is the fact that this is 5.7 times the 1950 level here.

One can see what this has meant in both urban and rural areas. In addition to the more widespread land ownership and farm equipment, there are shoes, bicycles, radios, TV sets in evidence among people who would have regarded them as beyond reach just a few years ago.

In general terms, the country's gross national product reached 2.3 billion dollars in the last fiscal year—10 per cent above the year before. Exports amounted to 465 million dollars—over 50 million dollars more than imports — thus giving Taiwan a favorable trade balance for the first time.

Against this backdrop of success, the Chiang Kai-shek administration has also sought to broaden the educational base. The children of mainlanders and of Taiwanese experience the same educational pattern. Ideologically it is both anti-communist and nationalist—also, of course, Chinese.

An equal melting pot influence is the time spent in the Army by young Taiwanese along with mainlanders.

Marriage between "Taiwanese" and "Chinese" is not yet at a high rate, according to officials here. But they say, "This too will come."

One problem is the birthrate. This island is second only to the Netherlands in population density. There are 820 persons per square mile.

Some of the generals like it this way, thinking of the ageing process in the Army which no longer has the mainland multitudes to draw on. There is also a Catholic opposition to birth control campaigns. The net result is that advocacy of birth control is now a private rather than an official matter.

The army of 600,000 in a population of 12 million is the equivalent of an army of 9,000,000 in the U. S.—about three times the current American peacetime level.

Finally, there is the matter of the succession to the 78-year-old president, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. One learns quickly that he is popular here. His passing from the political scene is not a topic of discussion.

When an inquiring reporter does raise it with officials, they are likely to note that Chiang's health is good and that he can serve the country for many more years.

But they are also likely to whisper in private that his passing would be a blow, a serious blow, but not so serious that Free China would collapse. Someone would carry on. And we shall all follow his path."

Elderly Motorist Tells Off Police

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP) — Shortly after traffic lights were installed in Glasgow, an elderly farmer drove into town.

He managed to drive through every red light before he was halted by a patrolman.

Fiji Plans Largest Shipyard Job Yet

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — The Public Works Department has announced plans to build a 110-foot-long landing barge, the largest vessel ever attempted in Fiji.

It will be used to carry heavy earthmoving equipment, heavy vehicles and construction materials between islands. A ramp will enable the barge to load and unload equipment at places without wharves.

Narcotics Patients Treated By U.S.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—There are thousands of ways and thousands of places a person can start the narcotics habit. This is where he may end it.

When John Doe, a dope addict, steps inside the gate at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital, it can be the end and the beginning for him.

More than 57,000 John and Jane Does have passed through the gate since the hospital, one of two of its kind in the world, opened 30 years ago.

They arrive handcuffed to a federal marshal or voluntarily. After that, the procedure is about the same for everybody.

First stop is the admission suite, where the new patient is given a physical examination and gives his medical history. Doctors find out what kind of drugs he has been taking, where he got them and how much he has consumed.

Then, if he has not already undergone withdrawal from drugs, that chore begins.

The time needed to get the patient off drugs usually ranges from four to 12 days. During that time, he gets smaller and smaller doses of methadone, a synthetic drug that helps relieve withdrawal symptoms.

"We let them down reasonably easy. They are uncomfortable, complain a lot, don't eat much and don't rest well, but it is a very humane method," Dr. Robert W. Razor, medical officer in charge of the hospital, said.

"Most of us don't think it is too difficult to get a person off drugs, but the real job is to keep them off," he said.

Most prisoner patients don't need the withdrawal phase. They have undergone what they call "cold turkey" the nerve-shattering complete withdrawal, without aid, in jail.

The hospital likes to keep voluntary patients up to six months to get them ready to face the world again without returning to the habit.

Prisoner patients most often stay longer because of a law that requires a mandatory five-year sentence, without parole, for possession of narcotics.

"After withdrawal, they usually start getting their appetites back and rest easier," Dr. Razor said. "Then we move them into the convalescent ward for about a week before starting the orientation program."

"This is the essence of the program," Dr. Razor said.

Voluntary patients can leave any time they want, Razor said, and most leave before they should.

For this reason, about two-thirds of the patients in the hospital at any one time are prisoners, but more than half of the admissions are voluntary.

The hospital, which accepted its first patients May 29, 1935, averages 1,035 patients at a time. The other Public Health Service hospital, at Fort Worth, Tex., opened a few years later.

Razor and other medical officers hope for two improvements in their program—indeterminate sentences for prisoners and a better type of care after release. Congressional action is needed for both.

The indeterminate sentence would allow doctors to release patients when they are ready to go home.

Siamese Twins 'To Be Normal'

TURIN, Italy (AP)—Two 6-year-old Siamese twin sisters stood alone separately for the first time yesterday, one month after they were separated in a five-hour operation.

Doctors helped Giuseppina and Santina Foglia from their hospital beds and took them to an armchair where their mother sat. They stood for 20 minutes, then plunged into the arms of their mother, sobbing with joy.

"We can now definitely say that Giuseppina and Santina will grow up as two perfectly normal girls," said Dr. Luigi Solerio, who performed the operation.

Less Crime In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Serious crimes have declined in all catagories in Chicago except homicides and auto thefts in comparison with last year.

Police Superintendent O. W. Wilson announced the over-all decline of 10.4 per cent in serious crime with the cumulative decline for the year at 19.3 per cent.

Wilson said the principal reductions were in thefts of $50 and over. It is down 34.3 per cent. Robberies are down 13 per cent and forcible rape is down 11.4 per cent.

Serious assult is down 7.2 per cent and burglary is down 1.1 per cent.

An increase in auto theft was held to 0.5 per cent.

Merchants To Plant Daisies In Mill Valley

Plans are being made by four Mill Valley merchants to plant daisies in now-bare planter strips on Bernard Street and Sunnyside Avenue in a city beautification program.

They are to be planted by the Village Barber Shop and Coiffures in Color on Bernard Street and along portions of Sunnyside Avenue by Marin Floor Covering and El Marin Florist-Gifts, according to Norman Black, owner of the latter shop.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

There Are Many Remedies For Those Painful Plantar Warts

VAN DELLEN

Plantar warts are flush with the surface and exquisitely painful when standing or walking. The most common type develops at points of pressure on the ball of the foot. These lesions are easily confused with a callus except that they are more painful and have a central core. Now and then the two conditions co-exist.

These warts can be removed with liquid nitrogen, X-ray, radium, or electrodesiccation. Results are not ligely to be permanent when pressure plays a causative role. The arches must be strengthened and pads inserted behind the metatarsals to protect the wart from pressure. Learning to walk properly also is helpful.

INJURY FROM pressure has nothing to do with the formation of plantar warts that are scattered over the sole of the foot. Multiple lesions may be grouped and appear as one large wart until the upper layer is shaved off, revealing multiple cores. These are called mosaic warts when the lesions form an irregular patch with a granular surface. The soft, pulpy centers are surrounded by a firm, horny ring that resembles the core in a corn.

Infection, rather than pressure, usually is responsible when several develop within a week or 10 days. The causative virus spreads to other parts of the sole when the feet are moist. The warts may disappear spontaneously by keeping the area dry with dusting powder.

THE FORMALIN treatment often is successful, especially in children. The feet are soaked in a 5 per cent formalin solution at night for 10 to 15 minutes. This is carried on for several weeks until the lesions dry and drop out. Petroleum jelly placed between the toes and other tender areas prevents irritation. Some physicians apply solid carbon dioxide to the lesion, before foot soaks are started.

Plantar warts should not be overtreated because the residual scar can be as painful as the original lesion. Too much radiation may be followed 20 years later by a skin cancer in the treated area.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

IODINE

REPLY

Iodine is used by the thyroid gland. Most of us get our ration in foods and iodized salt. Additional amounts are of no value.

CONSTANT HEADACHES

REPLY

LIME DUST

Mrs. M. writes: We are thinking of purchasing a home but there is a lime company not too far away. There is a white substance blowing from this place. It is on the trees, bushes, etc. Do you think there is any danger in this?

REPLY

Perhaps, depending upon the chemical composiion of the dust. But why get involved? If you are concerned, look elsewhere for a home.

CONTRACEPTIVE PILLS

Mrs. R. writes: If contraceptive pills are safe to take, why is it necessary to have a Pap test and pelvic examination each year?

REPLY

Because these pills prevent pregnancy but not cancer or any other pelvic condition.

OUT OF BED

A. G. writes: What is meant by ambulatory treatment?

REPLY

The patient is up and about in contrast to treatment requiring bed rest or hospitalization.

"WRITER'S CRAMP"

P. G. A. writes: What does the term "writer's cramp" mean?

REPLY

This is a muscle cramp that develops in the hand and forearm of writers. It is said to be of nervous origin.

VEGETARIANISM

O. H. writes: Are vegetarians stronger than meat eaters?

REPLY

Vegetarians stress the strength of horses and elephants but neglect to mention rabbits and sheep. Most authorities agree that meat packs a wallop and that humans are equipped to eat both meat and vegetables.

SET INTO SOCKET

J. H. writes: What is a ball and socket joint?

REPLY

This type of joint consists of a globular or spherical head that fits into a cuplike cavity. The hip and shoulder joints are the best examples and both are capable of a wide range of movement.

STOMACH FREEZING

H. M. writes: Is stomach freezing ever used for gastritis as it is in some types of stomach ulcers?

REPLY

No.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Conspiracy Is A Felony

TWO WRONGS

When two persons plan to commit some crime, the law can punish both of them for the actual crime or for "conspiracy." A prison term may be the penalty in either case because conspiracy is a felony.

But it is not a crime, as a rule, when two people harm someone by chance. Thus, suppose Jones is standing on a corner, and get hurt when Smith's car crashes into Brown's truck. Smith and Brown have committed no crime and will not appear in criminal court. Instead, Jones might sue them in a civil court for damages.

In the old days, Brown would have had to pay the full judgment, and could not have collected from Smith, even though Smith was a "joint tort feasor" (harmdoer). Since 1958, however, the law has required each or both, as the case may be, to pay Jones.

Thus, if Brown pays the whole judgment he can later get the court to order Smith to repay share of the judgment to him.

The court will apportion the payment as fairly as it can. It may say that Smith, for example,, who was more at fault, must pay more than Brown, or vice versa. But this lies between the two defendants. The injured person gets his judgment paid first, no matter who was the more to blame.

But what if two people attack someone or destroy his property on purpose? This is different. Although the court may find both liable, the injured person may collect his damages from the one that can best pay. The point is that the person who pays in a wilful injury case usually has no claim against his co-defendant if damages cannot be segregated. No court will force his co-defendant to share in the payment. When two "tort feasors" harm someone on purpose, each one loses the right to have the other share in the damages. But if the harm is done accidentally, then the damages may be shared. First of all, however, the injured person is entitled to payment from either one in any case.

FDR's Hat Exchanged In Election Wager

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt has donated a campaign hat worn by his father, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, to Kentucky and Gov. Edward T. Breathitt will give it to the Historical Society.

Kentucky received the weather-beaten gray fedora as the result of a pledge by Roosevelt last year if President Johnson obtained a 300,000 state majority in the November election. The count was 294,000 but the state got the hat anyway.

Free tours for the public are offered by hundreds of factories and plants across the United States. Several firms provide free baby-sitting service while parents tour the premises.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Louis Armstrong Hour Great One

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —There ought to be something special this country can do for Louis Armstrong, because here is this man who goes around making people feel good, and almost everybody else goes around making people feel bad, and he makes a difference.

You take last night's one - hour CBS - TV film special, "Jazz on a Summer's Day," for instance. It concerned itself with some of the music and some of the atmosphere of a Newport (R.I.) Jazz Festival, and it wasn't the greatest television hour that ever came down the pike, but at the very start Louis came on with a red hot number and his effect was the same as always: Suddenly it was impossible not to grin, and he was making you feel good again, and free and totally disarmed. Later, of course, he came on for a longer session, and that was okay too.

As for the show itself, once it got down to the business of giving priority to the music, and stopped fussing around trying so hard to be arty by providing an excess of routine "atmosphere" shots, there were some good moments to enjoy. As I understand it, this hour was an edited - down version of a previously released film produced and directed by photographer Bert Stern, and so it is difficult to say how much an apparent editing for television affected the whole work.

The way it was presented last night, a long part of the beginning of the show was, except for the musical portions, maddeningly irritating with a juvenile insolence that seemed to poke fun (even if it didn't intend to) at the humorous aspects of the festival crowd and setting — as though such a device had never been used before. Here was a show that had some of the greatest artists of jazz, and the camera was wasting its time with secondary, extraneous matters, giving a jerky effect, and reacting to the human comedy like a freshman reading Thomas Wolfe for the first time.

Finally, however, things settled down to the music, and within the hour we heard Thelonius Monk, Anita O'Day, George Shearing, Dinah Washington, Gerry Mulligan, Jack Teagarden — and last, and perhaps best of all, Mahalia Jackson.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: ABC-TV's animated "Alice in Wonderland" special for the fall includes these voice castings: Sammy Davis Jr. as the Cheshire Cat, Zsa Zsa Gabor as the White Queen, Howard Morse as the White Rabbitt and Bill Dana as the White Knight (Jose Jimenez style).

Firearms Bill Goes To Brown

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Aliens, persons convicted of a felony and narcotics addicts would be guilty of a major crime if convicted of possessing or owning a concealable firearm under a bill sent to Gov. Brown's desk.

The measure by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr., D-Merced, received unanimous Senate endorsement yesterday. It already had cleared the lower house.

MARIN FILM FARE

Scientists' Under-Sea Life Enchanting On The Screen

By LES DARD

LARK THEATER

"World Without Sun" is now playing, a fascinating documentary of Jacque-Yves Cousteau's historic month-long invasion of ocean depths in 1963.

It depicts an experimental underwater expedition to determine if man can live and work at various depths of the sea without surfacing. An atmosphere of gaiety and good fellowship is maintained throughout.

FAIRFAX THEATER

This theater is now offering an unusual opportunity to study the unusual cinematic techniques of Ingmar Birgman. A trilogy of the famous Swedish director's films are now on screen.

In the first, "Through A Glass Darkly," we see a devastating disintegration of four people, all related, who spend 36 hours together on a Baltic island. Each soul is laid bare, and though the temper is pessimistic, there emerges yet some hope for man.

In "Winter Light," we are given a disturbing study of a pastor whose loss of faith destroys his human understanding. The film explores the interdependence of God, man and love.

"The Silence," final member of the trilogy, is dark and hopeless of mood. This time, through two sisters traveling through Europe with the small son of one, Bergman examines the condition for deeper meanings.

PLAYHOUSE TIBURON

First, there's Debbie Reynolds in the title role of "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." It is a delightful rags-to-riches story.

James Garner plays a dedicated coward in World War II who is ironically ordered to be a hero, in "The Americanization of Emily."

When a nutty admiral in London becomes convinced that Congress plans to scrap the Navy, he decides it will impress them if a sailor is "the first dead man on Omaha Beach."

SEQUOIA THEATER

Starting Sunday is the pleasurable three-part film "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," which stars Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni. It's a memorable vehicle for the two Italian stars.

In the first episode, Sophia keeps Naples police away by being almost perpetually pregnant. This allows her to stay out of jail while peddling cigarettes on the black market. Finally, after seven babies, husband Mastroianni is sexhausted, and off to jail goes Sophia.

MOTOR MOVIES

An international committee of scientists, working in Tanganyika, is investigating the possibilities of tapping the innermost depths of the earth to release heat that would generate all the power mankind would ever need.

Chief scientist Dana Andrews obtains authorization to use the atom bomb in the undertaking, despite objections from his staff. The explosion causes a fissure in the ocean floor that cracks the earth's crust.

NOVATO THEATER

"The Man With the Golden Arm," stars Frank Sinatra in what many consider to be his most brilliant acting role. Sinatra plays a drug addict, and the unusual story probes his life and tribulations following release from the federal narcotics hospital.

101 DRIVE-IN

The story starts with Janet Leigh, a larcenous young lady, stealing $40,000 and skipping town to be with her lover, John Gavin. She meets up with a motel keeper, a strange and troubled young man who babbles about the problems of his mad mother. Tony Perkins does well in the role.

RAFAEL THEATER

Sean Connery stars in both as the intrepid James Bond—Secret Agent 007.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

For slapstick comedy as performed by a number of the world's best comedians, this film's hard to beat.

State Crop Outlook Good

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Harvest outlooks for peaches, apricots, plums, walnuts and wheat in California are good, the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says.

A report released yesterday said the fruit crop quality since harvesting began in May is generally good.

It foresaw a clingstone peach harvest of 900,000 tons, about 3 per cent more than last year, and 25 per cent higher than average.

Seminarian To Tell Of Selma Experience

Dr. Theodore A. Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, will tell of his role in the historic Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights march when he appears at the 12th annual potluck dinner of the Marin Chapter, American Civil Liberties Union, starting at 5:30 p.m. June 26 at Temple Rodef Shalom.

Kettenhofen Asks Study On Bond Votes

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen would like to give Marin citizens a chance to vote bonds for all the county's capital projects in the next five years.

Supervisors, for several months, have been reviewing a five-year plan for capital improvements that would schedule $3,632,200 in county funds for building and road projects.

The board has not yet adopted the plan and can only accept it as policy, not as a firm commitment. This is because the present board cannot bind future boards.

Kettenhofen, in a letter to board Chairman Peter H. Behr, asks for a study of the tax rate reductions possible if bonds were used to spread the cost of construction over a long term of years.

Cough Syrup Law Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Starting in mid-September, Californians will need a prescription before they can buy cough syrup containing codeine.

Gov. Brown made this the law yesterday when he signed a bill by Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton. State narcotics agents said the medicine is used by drug addicts and it is habit forming.

Mill Valley Boy Scout Attains Eagle Honors

Bruce Thomson, assistant senior patrol leader of Boy Scout Troop 1 of Mill Valley, will be awarded Eagle Scout honors at a court of honor at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Boy Scout Hall in Mill Valley.

Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thomson, 40 Millay Place, has been a member of Troop 1 for three years and was elected to Order of the Arrow, scout service organization, last summer.

G. R. McConnell, superintendent of Mill Valley School District, will speak at the ceremonies. Rev. Jack Bartlett, associate pastor of the Community Church, will give the invocation.

Bruce, a former Independent-Journal carrier, served as vice president of the freshman class at Tamalpais High School this year, and earned a letter in swimming. He also served on the cabinet of Muir League of Community Church.

Bruce also is in the Tamalpais High School Band, choir and dance band.

Sea Slugs Are Tasty

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Sea slugs, rather horrible-looking creatures which abound on the shores of Tanzania, are regarded by Eastern gourmets as a luxury additive to soup.

Federal Probers Point Out Blame In Train Crash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Comission (ICC) says a train wreck near Fort Bragg last September which injured 68 persons was caused by the failure of a "skunk" train crew to obey orders.

The accident involved a head-on collision of two of the California Western Railroad's so-called "Skunks" — self-powered diesel cars which wind through Mendocino County on some of the world's curviest railroad track.

The ICC, in a report released Wednesday, said the westbound train failed to stop short of a spur track switch as required by a train order.

The commission also said a motorman aboard the westbound train apparently was mistaken when he claimed to have suffered a blackout shortly before the accident.

The ICC recommended that California Western "take action to obtain compliance with its operating rules."
